THE · DRIFT · 1947

A chronicle of student activity and achievement in the year of the great campus invasion of postwar GI Joes and GI Janes and prewar teens . . . sometimes known as the year of the Butler Bulge. Recorded by a student staff under the direction of Bob Wells, Editor; Ruth Ellen Pohlar, Associate Editor; and Don Payne, Business Manager.

With the largest number of students in the school's history tumbling over each other on the Fairview campus, a host of new educators arrived, class schedules were expanded and the regular class week was extended through Saturday morning. For this is the year history will record as Butler's greatest. Recognition of her outstanding educational achievements awarded Butler a place on the approved list of the Association of American Universities. This period brought unparalleled expansion designed to meet the needs of the ever increasing number of students who will some day call Butler their Alma Mater.

BUTLER UNIVERSITY, INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA

FAIRVIEW'S 4070 JOES and JANES

The great campus invasion, touched off by the "back to school" movement sent daily attendance figures soaring this year. In addition, more than 700 students were enrolled in the evening division.

THE FIGHTING CRY

In the bowl and in the fieldhouse, at football games and during basketball season, there is always a large cheering section to sing the Butler War Song and give out the fighting cry. Always loyal to the Bulldogs, students thrill with pride at victory and accept with courage the sting of defeat.

FIELD HOUSE

JORDAN HALL and CAMPUS

From a bird's-eye view Jordan Hall is seen in the center of the 246 acre campus located on the northwest side of Indianapolis.

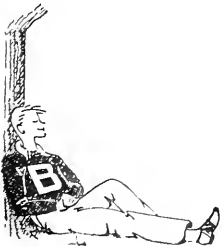

Sleepy Joe is only one of the students in the Butler Bulge . . . his name could be Joe or Jane for he is Mr. (and Miss) Average Butler Citizen . . . he has walked the halls of Jordan and witnessed the changing scene . . . he has welcomed the veteran and congratulated the senior . . . he has seen the university resume a full-scale athletic program . . . join the newly formed Mid-American Conference of Urban Universities . . . win the Indiana Intercollegiate conference football title . . . and enjoyed the return of full-scale social festivities. So as the typical Butlerite, Sleepy Joe is seen on the following pages DRIFTING through the school daze.

HE REGISTERS and pays HIS DOUGH

during the Battle of Registration, September, 1946. The week of the siege sees Sleepy Joe conferring with his advisory staff, the faculty members, and outlining a plan of attack for the semester. Careful plans are laid for his program and a class schedule is arranged. Next he is confronted with two days of waiting in lines that are long and slow-moving.

On the third day out an official communique from the front convinces him that Plan A must be abandoned because many classes have been wiped out by the great campus invasion. After consultation with Major Maxam and his staff in the Registrar's Office, Plan B is adopted and Sleepy Joe once more proceeds to the battlefield. Finally on Plan X he begins registration. He deciphers the university code and carries out instructions by supplying identical information on white, yellow, pink and tan forms.

The next stand is made at Bursar's headquarters. Captain Kendall and his lieutenants issue proper equipment and Sleepy Joe turns over the cash.

Sleepy Joe then moves up to the Book Store and is confronted with scarcities of valuable materials. Reinforcements have not arrived and the book supply is nearly exhausted, but he is issued a new notebook, two pencils and plenty of doodling paper . . . also two Butler seals and a box of university stationery.

Mission completed! Sleepy Joe is victorious! He is commissioned Student at Butler University.

OFF the bus

... just in time for his first class, Sleepy Joe, like many other Butlerites, lives in town and commutes to and from the campus daily. The bus ride to the end of the line gives him a chance for last minute cramming or a few winks of sleep.

The JAM in JELLY Hall

... before class makes it difficult for Sleepy Joe to capture his morning paper ... The Collegian. After giving it a quick once over Sleepy Joe takes time to hear the good word from a few friends before traveling down the hall.

At the door

... Sleepy Joe lingers with classmates 'til the echo of the bell dies in hope that the professor will not show up and the class will be dismissed.

Into Class

... he goes and the semester begins for Sleepy Joe. Besides lab, Butler classwork involves attending lectures and recitations and, of course, outside preparation.

down to BUSINESS

As the semester advances, Sleepy Joe finds every minute of his class time being utilized to the fullest extent. He begins taking notes and soon becomes familiar with such things as collateral reading, term papers, blue books, surprise quizzes and mid-terms. Professors with years of study, training and experience act as commandants of the book detail for class battalions.

He RUSHES Through RUSH Week

Introductions, and hand-shaking, smiles and rainbow-colored punch are in order during the pre-school rushing routine of sororities and fraternities.

Freshman girls are entertained at teas in the chapter houses on the opening day of Rush Week. Receiving lines seem long to rushees as they struggle to remember the names of girls in each house. Afternoon and evening parties often center around the bridge table where freshmen are quickly introduced to that important phase of college life called bridge. New pledges receive ribbons at the pan-hellenic dinner and at the end of the week girls move into the houses accompanied by much baggage, bedding and teddy bears.

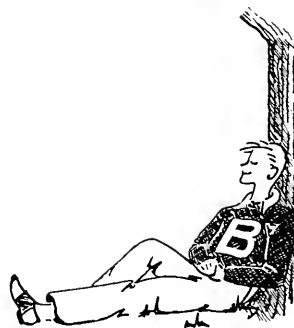

For the men there are pats on the back, "buddy" chats and a modest showing of the trophy case. To let the rushee in on the swing of things, the paddle is also on exhibit. The time-honored fraternity serenade is always a selling point for perspective pledges. For the first time in several years fraternities were forced to stop rushing before the rushees ran out because of the large number of men on campus.

HE CHEERS for BUTLER

Together with the regular university athletic program, intramurals again took top billing on the Fairview campus this year. All of the fraternities and other organizations boasted teams well-stocked with veterans and competition was slightly terrific. Coeds and eds came out in droves to provide enthusiastic cheering sections.

. . . and EATS HOT DOGS

Intensive training plus keen competition makes athletics an important phase of university life. Butler is fortunate in having the largest fieldhouse in the state of Indiana and a fine bowl in which to hold football games. Sleepy Joe, like all loyal fans, is always on hand when the Bulldogs are battlin'. He cheers . . . sometimes he jeers . . . but he can take it on the chin and still be a good sport.

During nerve-racking minutes of the games, Sleepy Joe builds up intestinal fortitude with a hot dog. On leaving a game he relives his favorite plays of the evening and tells friends what he would have done had he been on the floor. There is also a loud and long voicing of his opinion of the officials.

As a perpetual clock watcher, Sleepy Joe is always on time for lunch. Usually he is informed from within that it is time to eat long before the hands of the timepiece are straight up. In the cafeteria, as on a few other occasions in his college career, Sleepy Joe must wait via a line before he can eat.

BOOKS . . . BRAINWORK . . . boredom

On campi all over the country students find it necessary to take some time off from bridge, clubs and sports for a little relaxation. This they do by studying.

Page after page is turned in books both large and small (mostly large) as Sleepy Joe struggles onward and upward in the endless search for knowledge.

Sleepy Joe receives vital training for citizenship during his study hours. He learns to express and develop his own ideas while respecting the opinions of others. As his knowledge increases and his outlook broadens, he begins the realization of his ambitions and is spurred on to seek new horizons in his intended vocational or professional field.

In the library Sleepy Joe finds 90,000 volumes covering almost every subject imaginable. In the card file, books are listed by their authors and by their titles. At the desk in the loaning library Sleepy Joe checks out books for home use. Trained librarians and student assistants are responsible for the efficient operation of the library.

Current issues of newspapers, magazines and periodicals are available in the periodical reading room. These provide entertainment as well as a wealth of information.

Bound volumes of many periodicals are kept on file for ten years. The reference room contains many valuable books in addition to the general and special encyclopedias.

The Katharine Merrill Graydon division of the university library is named in honor of a distinguished Butler graduate and professor. Periodically new books are added to Miss Graydon's original collection of 1,432 books.

Studying has become a great pastime at Butler and at times it is even found on the steps of Jelly Jall. Even though scarcities are still evident in this postwar period, Sleepy Joe always seems to find sufficient books for study.

SLEEPY JOE'S Favorite Course: *Campusology

BESIDES Readin,' Ritin' and 'Rithmatic

. . . Sleepy Joe finds a wide range of activities at Butler to keep him interested during his extracurricular hours. For his class in campusology Sleepy Joe gladly spends hours in research. If grades or credit were given he would always rate an A.

When he becomes analytical Sleepy Joe realizes that much is gained during his hours off duty. Lasting friendships are formed and interests are broadened. Character and personality are developed through association with fellow students. By learning to play as well as to work with other people, Sleepy Joe is preparing to play the game of life.

Dances are always a highlight on the university social calendar. Before formal season opens, mixers are held to help new students become acquainted. Occasionally informal dances are held in the Campus Club and the fieldhouse.

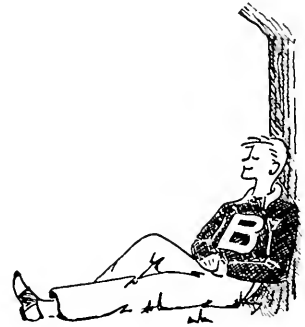

The year '47 called for expansion and an increase of facilities in the Campus Club, the social and recreational center of the campus. To accommodate the increase of students, the "little green barn" in back of Jordan Hall was enlarged and a soda fountain was added. New booths and a fresh paint job completed the interior decoration.

Here Sleepy Joe and his friends talk politics and basketball, play bridge and ping pong, and in general take life easy during free periods.

At the counter Sleepy Joe orders sandwiches and other snacks . . . that is if he can get close enough. Between classes students drop in for a candy bar or a coke.

Music at the C Club is provided by a juke box and occasionally a brave couple dances if they can find some floor space not in use.

The two ping pong tables in the club receive little rest. Rabid fans keep the balls pinging and ponging from morn 'til night. When the smoke begins to clear away toward evening, the bridge kids can still be seen hard at it in some secluded corner.

Christmas Vacation

... Sleepy Joe Sleeps

Because Butlerites are all such good li'l students, Santa Claus Ross gives them a nice long vacation each year at Christmas time. Sleepy Joe rushes home to wish all a merry Christmas, eat a turkey dinner and sleep for two full weeks.

Everyone enters into the spirit and writes letters to the jolly ol' man with whiskers. The most popular request: Please deliver the post-vacation finals to some deserving persons in Siberia.

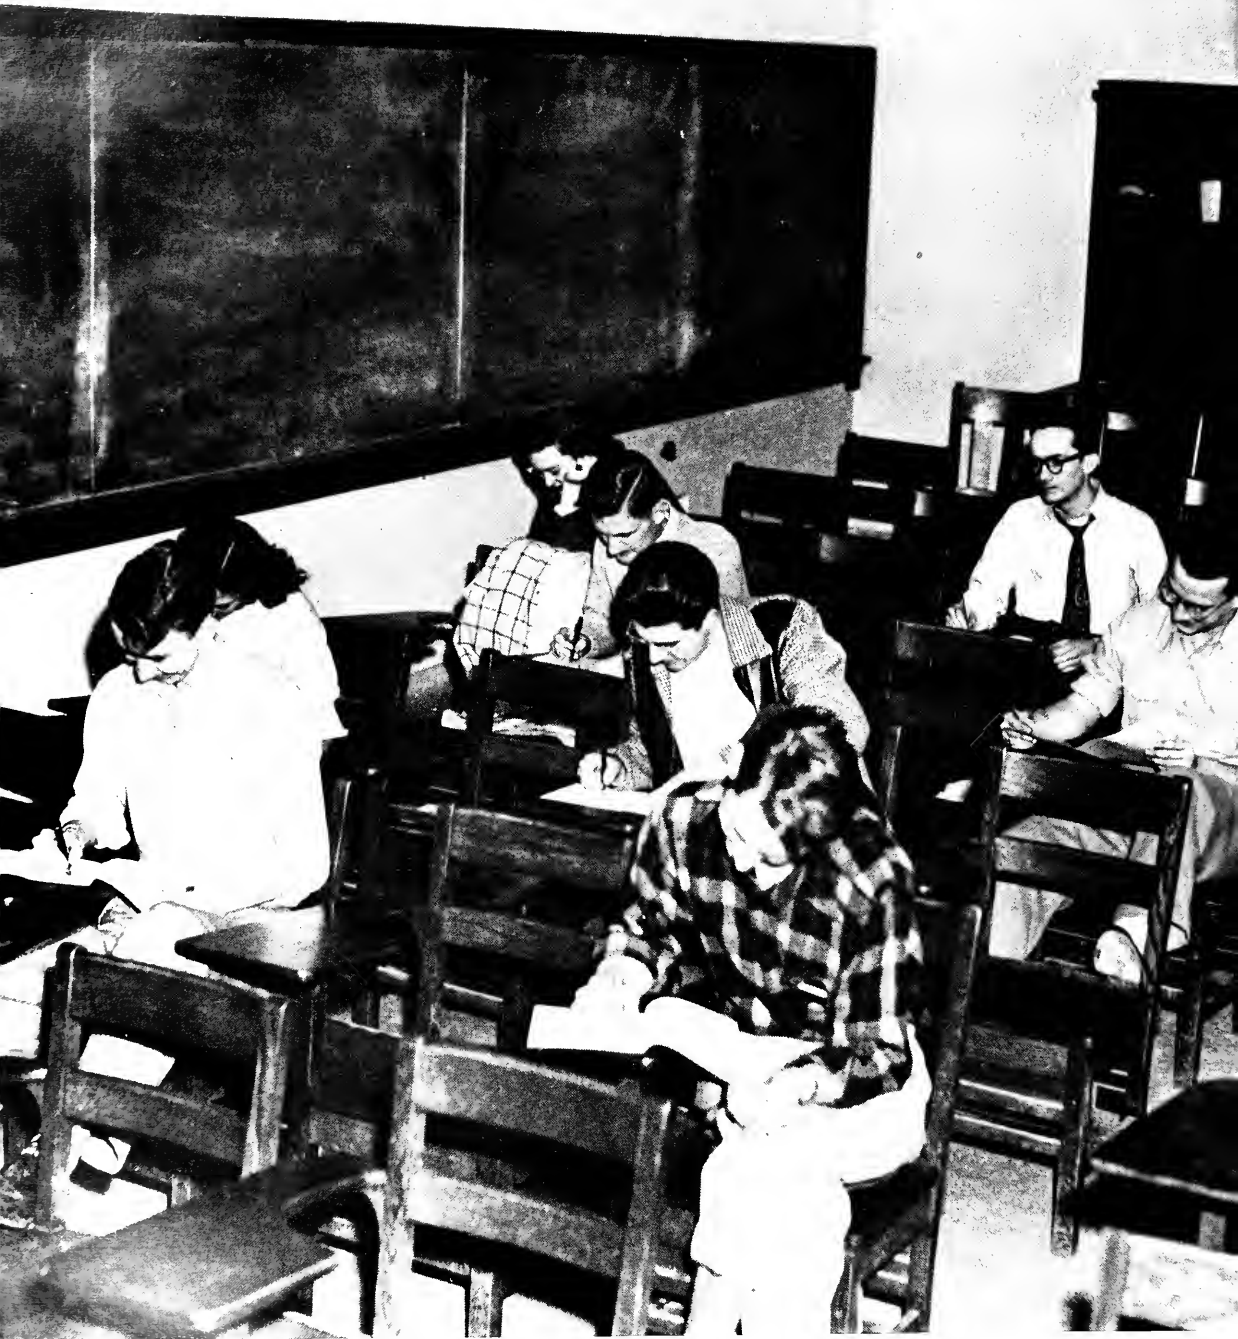

Jordan Hall takes on a festive appearance when the Y. W. C. A. cabinet members hang wreaths on the office doors and clubs and organizations start celebrating Christmas weeks in advance with parties.

On the Wednesday before vacation carolers are active along "sorority and fraternity row" and at the homes of faculty members. With practically all groups caroling it is difficult to find anyone at home to listen.

When the all-school Christmas convocation ends the run of social activities, Sleepy Joe hurriedly packs the dirty clothes accumulated during the semester, carefully forgets books and notes, and goes home for the holidays.

After New Year's Sleepy Joe returns to school to rest up from his vacation.

HE BURNS THE MIDNIGHT OIL . . .

According to Webster, an examination is a test of knowledge or fitness. Final exams, then, are well-named, for they are the last tests of the semester and determine how much knowledge the students have absorbed.

During Exams

Through the years Butler has developed its own version of the popular quiz program. Zero hour is final exam week, a special week set aside at the end of each semester when students are bombarded with questions on everything from anthropological ancestry to Zeuctocoelomata (that covers about everything from A to Z).

The besieged Sleepy Joe awakes one day from his normal half-sleeping state to discover that finals are upon him and he still has three term papers and a book report to complete. At this point sleep ceases for Sleepy Joe and cramming begins.

He immediately dusts off his books, retrieves his glasses from the latest novel, disconnects the telephone and digs in.

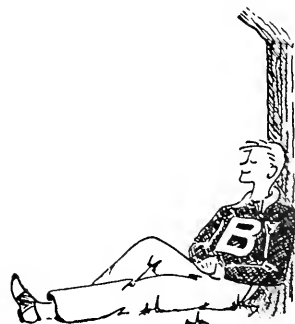

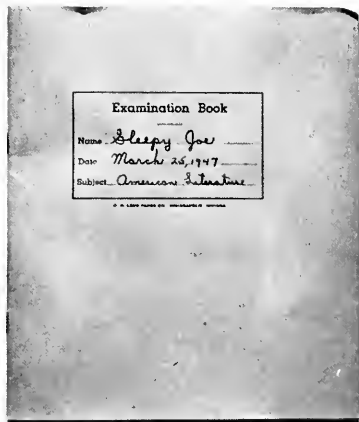

He begins to wade through class notes, but they are so decorated with phone numbers, Greek letters and original art work he becomes distracted. As the clock strikes midnight he is shocked back into reality.

To find out which final is first, he begins reading the Collegian. Before coming to the schedule he reads two news-stories, a column and the sports page. His book cracks with newness as he finally opens it to begin reading the 1,229  $\frac{1}{3}$  pages.

Sleepy Joe became acquainted with a crib when he was very young, and as a college student he has a desire to revert to his childhood. With great ingenuity he compounds a crib of the entire book, but it's all in fun and he uses it only for review. (It says here in fine print.)

Blue books are very popular with professors and very unpopular with students during exam week. In these books go all that the student knows (or doesn't know) and out of these same books comes the grade verdict for the semester.

When his last final is over Sleepy Joe is bedraggled, bewildered and befuddled.

AND SO THE YEAR GOES

General supervision of student life is undertaken by separate offices for men and women. The Men's Council is headed by Prof. L. Gray Burdin, chairman, and the affairs of women students are treated through the Dean of Women, Dr. Elizabeth B. Ward.

Membership in the Alumni Association is held by all graduates of the university and by former students who did not graduate; by members of the faculties; and by persons who have received honorary degrees from the university. Mr. George A. Schumacher is the alumni secretary-treasurer.

The Health Service gives medical examination and treatment correlated with physical education and training for participation in sports. In addition to the physicians in charge, a registered nurse is on duty every day.

Another of the many services offered to Butler University students and faculty members is the campus post office. Mr. Arthur S. Kendall, bursar, is the chief clerk in charge and Mrs. Evelyn Wickstrom is the assistant.

The Evening Division and Summer Sessions are under the direction of Dr. George F. Leonard. In cooperation with the deans of the colleges and department heads, Dr. Leonard organizes all courses to be given and supervises the work done in these courses. The office of Public Relations functions as a news bureau for the university. It handles all information that goes to the press, the radio, and other publications in both academic and athletic matters. Mr. John T. Barnett, director of public relations, also serves as assistant to the president in the everyday routine at the university.

Sleepy Joe often receives helpful advice and guidance from these offices during his school years.

GRADUATION CUM JUNE

To graduate cum laude or magna cum laude is a distinction but to graduate just plain cum June is quite an accomplishment. It takes four long years and a great deal of Mr. Churchill's "blood, sweat, and tears" to win the coveted A. B. or B. S. degree. Some coeds give up along the line and settle for the MRS. degree.

Sleepy Joe is so impressed with the seniors' academic regalia and the commencement exercises he vows that one day he too will be a wearer of the cap and gown.

He looks longingly at the diplomas and he congratulates the new Butler alumni. He is reminiscent with a senior who is packing his four-year collection of books, hats, keys, pins, Collegians, Drifts, and other souvenirs . . . evidence of a college life lived to the fullest.

Equipped with knowledge that will be applicable . . . friendships that will be lasting . . . and memories that will be cherished . . . the senior bids adieu to Fairview and the college daze.

BULLETIN

INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA

THE UNIVERSITY

“To establish, found, maintain, and perpetuate an institution of learning of the highest class, for the education of the youth of all parts of the United States, and especially of the states of the Northwest; to establish in said institution departments or colleges for the instruction of the students in every branch of liberal and professional education; to educate and prepare suitable teachers for the common schools of the country; to teach and inculcate the Christian faith and Christian morality as taught in the sacred Scriptures, and to promote the sciences and arts.”

—from the original charter, written by Ovid Butler.

Dr. M. O. ROSS

Familiar to everyone, this congenial man, admired and respected by teachers and students alike, is a lasting inspiration to the thousands of young men and women who attend Butler University.

BUTLER'S PRESIDENT

Dr. M. O. Ross, president of Butler University, has successfully guided Butler through the war years of confusion and into the difficult period of readjustment. He was instrumental in adding the University College which enables students in their freshmen and sophomore years to get a well-rounded education leading to the specialized and pre-professional courses of the junior and senior years, and in the purchase of the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy, which became a part of the University in 1945.

Under the active leadership of Dr. Ross, Butler has expanded and enlarged its facilities to accommodate the increasing number of students, many of whom are veterans. Numerous building plans that were retarded by war will soon be put into operation.

In addition to his duties as president, Dr. Ross is still serving as Acting Dean of the College of Business Administration.

He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Kentucky Wesleyan College, his Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees from the University of Chicago.

Before coming to Butler, Dr. Ross served as a professor of economics at universities and colleges in Indiana and Tennessee, and as Dean of Earlham College. Dr. Ross came to Fairview as Dean of the College of Business Administration in September, 1938, and became president in February, 1942.

The president is the author of books and articles on banking and finance. He is married and has a small son. He lives in the president's house at the university.

Butler is proud of its president—proud of his interest, ability and foresight—proud of his record in helping the university maintain its traditional high standards.

During a busy day, President Ross may be seen consulting with his secretary, Miss Burdyne Rohl, about many matters including speaking engagements. The president is often called upon to speak to business and professional organizations and high school groups.

As president and as chairman of the Administrative Council, Dr. Ross integrates all phases of the university program. The council is composed of representatives of both the administration and the faculty.

In addition to his many activities Dr. Ross finds time to have personal conferences with many students. Each semester Dr. Ross teaches at least one class in economics to advanced students.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Butler University is fortunate to have as members of its Board of Directors men and women with a strong sense of responsibility who give unstintingly of their time and devotion in the development of the modern institution on the Fairview campus. Their keen foresight and wise leadership will lead to even further development and ever expanding growth of the school as the years unfold. The members of the Board of Directors include

Hilton U. Brown, president; Emsley W. Johnson, vice-president; John W. Atherton, secretary-treasurer; Crate D. Bowen, Arthur V. Brown; Earl Crawford; Glen R. Hillis; J. I. Holcomb; Hugh Th. Miller; Mrs. Hugh Th. Miller; Raphael H. Miller; John F. Mitchell, Jr.; G. Barret Moxley; Peter C. Reilly; John R. Rees; M. O. Ross; Mrs. Ralph M. Spaan; Evan B. Walker; Kenneth K. Woolling; and Mrs. William A. Zumpfe.

HILTON U. BROWN

... one of Butler University's oldest, living alumni, is president of its Board of Directors. Mr. Brown, a member of the class of 1880, has been instrumental in helping Butler grow from a small college to a university embodying six colleges.

He has endeared himself to alumni and students alike with his never-failing interest and friendliness. Mr. Brown can often be seen around campus taking an active part in the school from which he received his A. B. and A. M. degree. In 1935 the honorary LL.D. was conferred upon him.

More than 45,000 diplomas of Butler graduates have been signed by this man who has attended all but two graduations since he was graduated. Hilton Brown is held in high esteem by all who know him, and is appropriately called the "grand old man" of the university.

EMSLEY W. JOHNSON

... vice-president of the Board of Directors is a prominent lawyer in Indianapolis and very active in civic affairs in the city and state. He is vice-president of the board of trustees of Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music and of the Jordan Foundation. Also he is a member of the American and Indiana State Bar Associations, the Indianapolis Foundation and the William E. English Foundation.

Mr. Johnson serves as president of the Old Settlers Association and the Indiana Astronomical Society. He is a past president of the Indianapolis Bar Association, the Lawyers Club and the Indiana Society of Pioneers.

A member of the class of 1900, Mr. Johnson also received the degrees of Ph. B. from the University of Chicago and LL.B. from the Indiana Law School.

JOHN W. ATHERTON

... as secretary-treasurer of the Board of Directors, is largely responsible for the financial success of projects concerning the university. To Butler's "Jack" Atherton, a member of the class of 1900, goes much of the credit for increasing the assets of the school from a small figure to approximately $9,000,000.

Besides being an ardent supporter of Butler University, Mr. Atherton has been one of the leading citizens of Indianapolis and the state of Indiana. In 1940 he was elected a State Senator in the Legislature and was re-elected in 1944.

A loyal member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Mr. Atherton has been a member of the Columbia Club, the Indianapolis Rotary Club, the Central Christian Church, and the Council for Central Indiana Boy Scouts.

DR. C. R. MAXAM, Butler Registrar assumes many university duties. Besides being in charge of all registration, Dr. Maxam, as chairman of the Veterans' Council assists veterans regarding their military service credits. He also serves as director of admissions and evaluates high school and college credits of all students. As director of placement he helps find part-time and full-time position for Butler students.

ARTHUR S. KENDALL as university bursar, handles the jobs of purchasing agent for Butler, accounting for bookstore and cafeteria, director of the post office, business manager of athletics, and supervision of Drift activities. On Mr. Kendall's capable shoulders rest the financial worries of an entire university. His advice and counsel often is solicited by both organizations and individuals.

GEORGE A. SCHUMACHER, since 1937, has been alumni secretary at Butler. Through his efforts the active alumni membership has been greatly increased and organized into alumni clubs. Each summer the alumni office contacts alumni by mail. Mr. Schumacher edits the monthly Butler Alumnus which carries alumni and school news, and is an assistant professor of English. In addition, all literature mailed to high school seniors and inquiries concerning Butler University are handled by Mr. Schumacher.

DR. GEORGE F. LEONARD has an important role at Butler as director of the Evening Division and Summer Sessions, associate professor of education, and director of the Student Welfare Agency. His duties include the organization and supervision of evening and summer school courses, approving organizations' budgets, auditing student accounts and providing aid to students from the Mothers' Council. The preparation of promotion bulletins and publications for these divisions is also handled by Dr. Leonard.

ADMINISTRATION

Behind the scenes at Butler University are a group of capable administrators, each in charge of specific duties, all directly responsible for the smooth running of the institution. Although they do not serve in an active teaching capacity, their efforts provide many of the services which the students and faculty receive. Too little is known about the great amount of work involved in keeping the records and supplying the additional facilities which are so vitally necessary to a college student.

The history of the Butler library dates back to the early days of the university. Many excellent collections of books have been presented to the library since that time. On the shelves are volumes of books and bound periodicals in addition to the unbound issues of periodicals, newspapers and pamphlets.

The staff includes Harold L. Boisen, librarian; Faye Cantrall, assistant librarian; Thelma Schuler, catalogue librarian; Dorothea Berry, reference librarian; Emily Helming, Graydon librarian; Mrs. Charles A. Wilson, loan librarian; Marjorie Harvey, reserve book librarian; and Betty J. Mathis, secretary.

The Graydon Memorial Library was presented to the university by Katherine L. Graydon, a former professor of English, and the Indianapolis Panhellenic Association made possible the establishment of the periodicals room in 1941.

DEAN GINO A. RATTI

Down through the centuries Lemnian Athena, commonly known as Minerva the Goddess of Wisdom, has represented scholarship and a broad, liberal education. The objectives of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences embrace these elements in preparing students to live a full, useful life.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS AND SCIENCES

The school year of 1946-47 ends for the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences with the retirement of Dean Gino A. Ratti. After his resignation, Dean Ratti will continue to serve Butler in the capacity of head of the Department of Romance Languages, and professor of French. Since 1920, Dean Ratti has been connected with the oldest active college within Butler University. Dean Ratti received his A. B. and A. M. degrees from Middlebury College and his Ph. D. from the University of Grenoble.

The objectives of the college embrace the following basic elements: Interpretation of human experience as expressed in language, literature and the Fine Arts; use of the scientific method of procedure in the acquisition of knowledge; broad, thorough knowledge of the world; exact and systematic thinking; moral and ethical evaluation of human activity; and opportunities for specialization and for creative effort.

Major subjects may be chosen from any of the following fields: botany, chemistry, economics, English, French, German, Greek, history, home economics, journalism, Latin, mathematics, music, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, religion, sociology, speech, Spanish and zoology. The work in economics and journalism is given in the College of Business Administration. Students in the college may also take pre-professional courses and a special curriculum for high school teachers is offered.

Increased interest of veterans in the field of business gave rise to a greatly expanded program in the College of Business Administration this year. Keyed to the needs of students preparing for careers in the business world courses are designed to equip them with a knowledge and understanding of the changing and developing character of economic society and the responsibilities that are laid upon educated men and women engaged in economic and journalistic activity.

Established in 1937, the college is still headed by Dean Maurice O. Ross, president of Butler, and Assistant Dean Merwyn G. Bridenstine. A separate division of the College of Business Administration is the Department of Journalism. Dr. De Forest O'Dell returned to Butler this year to take over the duties as head of this department.

Journalism majors supplement classroom knowledge with laboratory work on the campus daily newspaper, The Collegian, and on newspapers and magazines throughout Indiana. Students may specialize in one of three fields: General Editorial, Newspaper Business and Advertising, or Community Journalism.

Work is offered in this college in the fields of general business, marketing, personnel management, purchasing, traffic management, credit management, accounting, and insurance. Under the guidance of Dr. R. I. Mehr, Butler University has become one of the major schools in the field of life insurance training. An annual scholarship is awarded by the American United Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis to a student of at least junior standing who is majoring in life insurance and interest and qualified to enter the marketing and service branch of the life insurance business.

DEAN P. M. BAIL

Practice teaching is an important phase of the training students receive in the College of Education. In this way the student is introduced to the actual problems of the teaching profession.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

The education of teachers, supervisors, and administrators for positions in kindergartens, elementary schools, and high schools is the major purpose of the College of Education. Under the direction of Dean P. M. Bail and his faculty the education student is given a broad, general education, intensive work in the subjects to be taught, specialized training in professional courses introducing the student to the problems of teaching, and a program of supervised student teaching in the Indianapolis Public Schools.

Instruction in the College of Education is organized in seven departments: elementary education (including kindergarten); secondary education; physical education; educational psychology; administration; history and philosophy of education; and supervised teaching. The curriculum also includes preparation in certain specific fields such as the education of exceptional children. In affiliation with John Herron Art School and Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music students are prepared to teach and supervise art and music both in elementary and high schools.

Students who expect to qualify for an Indiana teacher's license may complete the requirements for the certificate and at the same time complete the requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in elementary, secondary, or physical education. Graduate students may secure the degree of Master of Science in Education and at the same time complete the requirements for administrative licenses.

DEAN O. L. SHELTON

Students in the School of Religion receive practical training in preaching and conducting services in Sweeney Chapel. In addition practically all graduate students have their own congregations.

SCHOOL OF RELIGION

The School of Religion, Butler University, with its beautiful new building, is one of the largest and best equipped ministerial training schools in the country. Last year students were enrolled from 46 colleges and universities and eight seminaries. They came from 31 states and two foreign countries.

The School of Religion was established in 1924, and moved into its graceful, commodious, Georgian building in 1942. The building houses worshipful Sweeney Chapel, classrooms, seminars, offices and the theological library of 30,000 volumes, including the largest collection of Disciple literature.

A graduate institution and an accredited member of the American Association of Theological Schools, the primary purpose is to train candidates for the ministry and for allied forms of religious service. The curricula of the schools, also cultural in value, furnishes to students the knowledge and technique for productive work in the fields of pastoral, evangelistic, educational, missionary, ministry and in the vocations of social service. The school is also one of the supporting institutions of the American Schools of Oriental Research in Jerusalem and Baghdad.

The deepening and broadening of the religious life of those who attend the school is a consideration of the greatest importance. Daily devotional services are held in Sweeney Chapel. These services are a vital part of the life of the school community. A series of lectures each year, one in the fall and another in the spring, also contribute greatly to the enrichment of the school community.

DEAN EDWARD H. NILES

The College of Pharmacy dispensing room is a storehouse for supplies and drugs. Students get materials here for making up prescriptions and for laboratory experiments.

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

Butler's newest college is the College of Pharmacy. It was established in 1945 by merger with the Indianapolis College of Pharmacy. The latter institution had been in operation about 35 years, and had played a prominent part in the development of pharmaceutical education.

Edward H. Niles is Dean of the College of Pharmacy. Its alumni hold positions of distinction in the field of pharmacy in Indiana and other states. The College of Pharmacy holds membership in the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy and is accredited by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education.

Graduates of this college are not only prepared to operate drug stores, but also to become hospital pharmacists, to enter the wholesale drug field, pharmaceutical, chemical, biological and cosmetic industries, and to be analysts and inspectors for health boards and other government agencies.

At the earliest possible date a new building for pharmacy and related sciences will be erected on the Butler campus. For the present, the larger part of the work in pharmacy courses is being given in the buildings at 800 East Market Street. Members of the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences are also giving instruction in some courses there and a number of pharmacy students attend regular classes on the Butler campus.

JACK PATTERSON

On the morning of June 9, 1947, 400 seniors, making up the largest graduating class in the history of Butler University, donned caps and gowns, received their diplomas and left the Fairview campus to take their places in the world. While only a few had been classmates for the entire four years, there was, nevertheless, a strong unity among the members of the class.

Led by class officers Bill Ransdell, Delta Tau Delta, president; Rose Alice Humke, Zeta Tau Alpha, vice-president; Barbara Patterson, Delta Delta Delta, secretary; and Jack Patterson, Sigma Nu, treasurer, the class made an effort to revive and preserve all the traditions that had gone forgotten during the war years. In academic regalia the seniors participated in the Founders' Day and Honor Day ceremonies.

The annual Senior Ball, which highlighted the social season, was under the able guidance of Paul Robey, Sigma Chi. The traditional senior gift presented to the school will remain as a monument to the Class of '47.

The Junior Class sparked with the return of many veterans in addition to the original class of '48 had its election in October. Robert Matthews, Lambda Chi Alpha, was named president of the class; Charlene Harrison, Pi Beta Phi, vice-president; Eleanor Allsworth, Delta Gamma, secretary; Robert Coyner, treasurer; and Dean Wildman, prom chairman.

From the beginning these officers with a very co-operative class determined to return the Junior Prom to its place as the most remembered social event of the year. With this idea in mind a Prom to surpass all Proms was planned and Dick Jurgens and his orchestra provided the music. The dance was held April 11 at the Indiana Roof. Campus fraternities revived the traditional Prom breakfasts and a free ticket to the ball plus a gift certificate for L. Strauss and Co., Inc., was awarded to the winner of the beard-growing contest. The Junior Prom queen and her court reigned over the affair.

In the other large venture of the class much credit goes to Bob Wells, Phi Delta Theta, and the members of his staff for one of the finest Drifts in Butler history.

... were held
 A. and Y.W.C.A.,
 in a joint effort to ate all "Y" activities for year.

Main topic of the meetings was he discussion of a membership drive to interest incoming students during the biggest school year in Butler's history. The drive will be conducted during he week of October 9th to 16th.
 In a precedent setting plan, a multaneous program was outlined by both organizations whereby one independent student soliciting the most members uring the drive and one organization with the greatest number members to its credit will be ed separate trophies in re-ion of their efforts.

Plans Member Drive
 The Y.W.C.A. plans to open heir membership drive with a tea to acquaint prospective members with the purposes and aims of the group and will close the campaign with a meeting to orientate new members. Although the Y.M.C.A. has not completed plans for their membership drive, a dinner is to be held sometime during the week climax the campaign.

Other topics discussed by the
 C.A. were plans for fresh-
 "Y" work and the possibil-
 "Y" participation in intra-sports. Tom Nillan and

Meetings Set

Wednesday of the month at o'clock, Mary Grace French, president, stated.

It was thought that the two organizations, with similiar aims and ideals, would be able to accomplish more during the school year if their efforts and activities were planned jointly.
 With this view in mind, a joint cabinet meeting has been called for Monday night at 7 o'clock in the "Y" room.

ACTIVITIES

When the 11:50 bell rings at Butler activity gets under way in the activities department. Clubs and honoraries hold meetings, committees make plans and students rush madly from one room to another in a vain attempt to keep up with all the extra-curricular activities. Butler boasted a full-scale activity program this year for the first time since before the war. Practically all organizations which had been on an inactive basis were revived and ample opportunities were offered all students for stimulating interests outside the classroom.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student government not supervised directly by the administration and faculty is under the jurisdiction of the Student Council. The Council conducts all class and queenship elections, regulates electioneering and supervises all campus organizations except the social fraternities and sororities. Also, the Council helps to select student representatives to serve on certain faculty committees which direct activities not under Student Council supervision.

This year the Council secured for the student body a series of dances held usually on Wednesday evening. Plans for the revision of the constitution of the Butler student body were made in the spring, and voted on by the students at the time of the regular Student Council election.

The Council consists of 14 members elected by the classes which they represent: six seniors, five juniors and three sophomores. The two sophomores receiving the most votes fill two-year terms, as do the three members who are elected juniors. The other sophomore and the three elected seniors serve for one year only.

The President of the Council is also president of the student body. Thelma Endicott Tann served as president this year. Ann Gill served as secretary and Rebecca Taggart served as chairman of the elections committee. Other members were Irma Piel, Jean Pittinger, Marian Stone, Bill Wildman, Les DuVall, Earl O'Brien, Betty Keough, Mary Elizabeth Swann, Betty Lou Billeter, Scott Christie and Rosemary Ronshiem. Professor Virginia Brunson and Dr. A. Dale Beeler served as faculty advisers of the Student Council.

Scarlet Quill is the senior women's scholastic honorary organization. Members are chosen from junior coeds outstanding in scholarship, character, personality, leadership and participation in extracurricular activities.

Traditionally new members are "Capped" at the Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. Spring Sing. Graduating Scarlet Quill members go through the audience and place their mortar boards on the heads of the chosen girls and formally present them to the school.

Members of the group may be recognized by their white crew hats trimmed with a scarlet quill. The identification pins are small gold quills. The purpose of Scarlet Quill is to foster valuable university activities and to aid in the development of leadership and responsibility among its members.

This year Scarlet Quill celebrated its silver anniversary with a banquet at the Woman's Departmental Club. At that time, a set of books about famous women were presented to the university. A special book plate has been placed inside the books and such books will become an annual presentation by the Scarlet Quill alumnae association.

On Honor Day an annual scholarship for one semester is awarded by the organization to the sophomore girl who has achieved the highest scholastic average during the first three semesters of her university work. Another activity which the group sponsors is the presentation of gold cups for the best sorority and fraternity house decorations at Homecoming. Alpha Chi Omega and Delta Tau Delta won the honors this year. Each year the organization invites alumnae to an Honor Day tea.

Dinner meetings were held on the first Tuesday of each month in the cafeteria. Scarlet Quill's goal this year was to make plans for petitioning for a Mortar Board chapter at Butler. On Valentine's Day the members sold roses to Butler students in order to help finance their Mortar Board petition.

Barbara Seeger was president of the honorary this year; Barbara Lucas, vice-president; and Marion Stone, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Alice B. Wesenberg is the faculty sponsor.

To earn a "B" is an honor and it takes many hours of practice, patience, loyalty and co-operation. Butler's victories and traditions are many and they are pleasant memories for those who look back upon them.

Each year the "B" Men alumni make it possible to honor Butler's lettermen by having a banquet at which time awards are given. The "B" alums also sponsor an annual basketball and baseball game, both provide fun and entertainment for everyone.

The "B" Men would like to thank the coaches, Art Quiesser, president of the "B" Men Alums, and alumni for their participation in promoting interest in Butler athletics.

The Blue Book and the Rhinie Guide are published annually by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. The staffs of the publications are selected from among the members of these two organizations.

The Blue Book, or Student Directory, is a compiled list of all the members of the student body, faculty and administration of Butler and it includes addresses, telephone numbers and information concerning student activities. The staff of the 1946-47 Blue Book included Bill Ransdell, editor; Shirley Loy and Ralph Iula, associate editors; and Don Baker, business manager.

The Rhinie Guide is a publication distributed to all freshmen as they enter school and is designed to aid these new students in getting acquainted with Butler and its various phases of activity. The staff this year was made up of Bill Ransdell, editor; Ralph Iula and Don Seibert, associate editors; Bill Tobin, sports editor; and Don Baker, business manager.

THE BUTLER COLLEGIAN

*Mrs. Burgess and the Ed

Four mornings a week The Butler Collegian is propped against coffee cups in the cafeteria, read in snatches between classes and pored over by students in the library and Campus Club. During the course of the day probably every student reads the news of goings-on around the campus and items of local interest reported in the student publication.

True to form, the Collegian came out in support of many worthwhile school projects, boosted student support of athletic contests, decried campus political machines and through its editorials covered everything from current government issues to irritating problems that every student encounters. In addition to these services rendered the school, the Collegian served as a laboratory for hopeful young scribes. Revival of the annual Collegian Cheer Drive which netted clothing, coal and other necessities for the needy was a highlight in the paper's activities for the year. A gold cup was presented to the Sigma Chis for the largest contribution to the drive.

The male faction more than held its own on the staff for the first time in several years and captured many of the pole positions. Nick Smyrnis served as editor-in-chief at the beginning of the Collegian's fifty-ninth year of publication and Bill Ransdell took over the editorship during the second semester.

Managing editor for the first semester was Bill Tobin. Ransdell and Ralph Iula were city editors and Joy Mudd was the associate editor. The editorial department was directed by Bill Pittman and Bob Sanders was in charge of the sports desk.

Iula held down the position of managing editor during the second semester and Smyrnis became consulting editor. City editors were Joy Mudd and Pittman. Editorial director was Marjorie Phillips and the editorial page staff included Winifred Ham, Thomas Scanlon and Mike Tracey. Don Hyslop was column director. Tobin became sports editor and Georgia Gianakos was in charge of women's sports. Other staff members included Dale Farabee, circulation manager; Walter Hicks, photographer; and Don Siebert, librarian. Don Baker served as business manager for the Collegian both semesters. Members of the beginning reporting classes covered campus beats for the paper.

Dr. De Forest O'Dell was the faculty sponsor, assisted by Mrs. Rosamond R. Jones. Mrs. Dale Burgess was in charge of the copy desk, and Everett Miller was head of the mechanical department.

THE 1947

Constant and endless deadlines to meet kept Drift staff members on the jump throughout the year. Labor difficulties, paper and film shortages, printer and engraver demands were only part of the herculean task facing the editors trying to publish the best book possible—on time!

Bob Wells sat at the editor's desk and assumed responsibility for the 1947 edition. His work began early last summer when the dummy for this year's book was started. By fall, plans were outlined and action began. With Bob as helmsman, the 1947 Drift progressed from a loose-leaf paper dummy to a bound, printed edition ready for circulation.

Payne and Wells go over the books.

DRIFT

Don Payne as business manager was kept busy throughout the year making contracts, paying and collecting bills, keeping books and trying to keep the book within the budget—it wasn't easy!

Associate-editor Ruth Ellen Pohlar pounded out the copy, checked proofs with the printer, took charge of the Drift Beauty Contest and assisted the editor in the day to day crises which occurred.

Layout editor Don Hyslop directed the layout of the yearbook with the assistance of Pat Bond. Phil Thompson and Don Bush recorded the year's activities in pictures, and John Ames and Bud Speake were in charge of the photo-lab.

Staff members who assisted on the publication included Molly O'Dell, John Christ, Bucky Walters, Charles Josey, Rene Sims, Rhea McGoldrick, Mary Schrieber, Jane Judd, Phyllis Stultz, Paul Weakly, Bob Feezil, Nancy Portteus, Judy Richardson, Bill Tobin, and Bob Collins.

The Drift occupies a favorite place in every Butler alumni's library. A permanent record of university life, the Drift is a sentimental reminder of college days for years after graduation. Conceived in the year 1891 by a group of fraternity men and women, the idea of an university annual was nourished and developed until it became an integral part of Butler tradition.

The name "Drift" was suggested to an early editor by the drifts along the banks of a river. Composed of a variety of materials, the drifts float downstream and finally lodge at a bend or a bank of the river. To him the drifts were symbolic of the different kinds of materials included in a yearbook.

Since its beginning, publication has been annual except during the first World War and during the latter part of the depression. For several years the book was published by the Senior class but, according to early records, the Junior class took over the editorship after the 1904 issue.

To the editors there is no greater satisfaction than to know that the Drift is serving its intended purpose and recording for each student memories of happy college days at Fairview.

MSS

MSS, the literary magazine at Butler, has grown into a large publication with the return of the veteran and the expansion of campus facilities.

MSS does not pretend to be anything more than a laboratory magazine which presents the endeavors of the freshman and upperclassman writers. There is an effort on the part of the editorial staff to place in the magazine as many representative contributions as possible. Naturally the magazine carries no advertising or "slick" entertainment. In that the students in freshman classes pay for the publication, the staff feels that they are entitled to a cross-slice of what is being done in these classes.

The MSS staff has not only been interested in the production of a magazine this year, but also in the indoctrination of a cultural stimulus for prospective writers at Butler. Under the sponsorship of MSS, several well-known writers and poets have been brought to the university to speak on the experiences of the creative artist.

The Department of Religion in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences exists to serve all undergraduate students who desire some measure of ordered knowledge in the field of the Christian Religion. Furthermore, it seeks to provide a broad liberal arts foundation along with a thorough preparation in Bible study to students who plan to undertake graduate studies in schools of religion, theology, religious education, missions or social service. In this it amply fulfills the recommendations of pre-seminary studies of the American Association of Theological Schools.

Among the students in the department are potential missionaries, ministers, youth workers and religious education directors. Aside from studying for their degrees many of the students are working in churches of the state in these various capacities. These students represent numerous religious groups, as the department is open to people of all races and creeds alike.

Although housed in different buildings on the campus, the Department of Religion maintains a close cooperation with the School of Religion. Undergraduate students are encouraged to participate in the activities of this graduate school, particularly in daily worship in Sweeney Chapel, the Student Volunteers, the Ministerial Association and the Zelotai Club. Although they are drawn together by their common purpose of Christian service, fellowship between graduate and undergraduate students is promoted.

The campus club sponsored by the department is the Ichthus Club. The purpose of this club is to deepen the spiritual life of its members, to increase Christian fellowship in the campus and to develop in its members capacities for Christian leadership. The Ichthus Club meets bimonthly. Any undergraduate may become a member.

Members of the Department of Religion staff are Dr. E. Robert Andry, Kenneth A. Stewart, T. K. Smith and Miss Nellie Young.

The Letters E. E. S. O. stand for Elementary Education Students' Organization, E. E. S. O. is affiliated with the Blaker Club, composed of alumnus and friends of the Butler University College of Education.

Highlights of the year were the round table discussion, led by members doing student teaching, and the presentation of the movie, "The House I Live In," featuring Frank Sinatra. The film was a lesson of tolerance. On the Organization's traditional Alumni Day, past education students were invited to Butler to relate their teaching experiences.

At the Christmas party members displayed stocking dolls they had made for an orphanage. The calendar for the year also included a luncheon, talks by an interior decorator and an alum, initiation of new members and the annual spring picnic. On April 18 and 19 club members were hostesses for the Province Workshop which was held in Indianapolis.

Among notable guests were Mrs. Lillian Parker of the Carnegie Endowment and Dr. Andrew Cordier of the United Nations. Officers of the conference were Dorothea Beck, president; Teresa O'Hara, corresponding secretary; and Elinor Allsworth, treasurer. For students taking Spanish, the Circulo Castellano offers the opportunity for improving their speaking ability and for promoting interest in the language and the Spanish speaking countries. After five years of inactivity, this club was reorganized this year under the direction of Miss Florence Morrison. Membership is invitational.

During the year Dick Mellett told of his visit to the Basque regions, Dean Gino Ratti spoke on "Why Study a Foreign Language," Miss Morrison showed pictures of churches in Spain, and Miss Elizabeth Nelson described her stay in Mexico City. The club also held a Mexican Christmas party and in April presented a Fiesta in the Campus Club. Virginia Dubois was president; Nancy Ostrander, vice-president; Carmel Cecile, secretary; and Mary Ellen Quill, treasurer.

THE AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The American Chemical Society is an organization composed of chemistry majors with a three point average in chemistry. It was first formed for the purpose of eliminating the "school book" side of chemistry and introducing a more practical phase of chemistry through the study of new and present day problems.

Now members are attending meetings with other chemical affiliate chapters of the national A. C. S. A student who is a member of the Butler chapter is qualified as a member of the regular A. C. S. when he graduates.

Advisor Karl S. Means is a member of the national A. C. S. Officers included Don Payne, president; Ruthanne George, vice-president; Reba Marshall, secretary; Betty Keough, treasurer.

James Sullivan, Robert Dyer, Arthur Graham, Eugene Ayres and Fred Sondermann served as officers for the year. In less than two months after its organization the activities of A. V. C. included the establishment of a book-exchange and reference library, publication of The Veteran's Voice, state A. V. C. paper, conferences with university authorities on improvement of the book-distribution system and clothing two children for Christmas as part of The Indianapolis Times' "Clothe-a-Child" drive. The Butler chapter has demonstrated its capacity for playing an active constructive part in campus affairs.

The Accounting Society of Butler University was first conceived in the minds of a few advanced accounting majors early in the fall semester and with the helpful assistance of Professor Shors, head of the accounting department, the society was formed. Its roll call has increased from that small group of organizers till now its membership is forty, with a record of ninety per cent or better attendance at all of its dinner meetings.

The purpose of the society is to stimulate scholarship in the accounting field and to develop a close relationship between the classroom and the actual accounting practice. Society membership is open to all accounting majors who have completed intermediate accounting.

First officers of the organization were David Hughes, president; William Davey, vice-president; Anne Sturtevant, secretary; Robert Terrican, treasurer; and Robert Mathews, program and publicity chairman. Richard Coffin was named Executive Council member.

Horace G. Barden, president of the Indiana Association of Certified Public Accountants and manager of the Indianapolis office of the national firm of Ernst & Ernst, was the guest speaker at the first meeting held at the Warren Hotel on November 14th. Special guests were Dr. Ross and Dr. Bridenstine. At another meeting, Troy G. Thurston, a partner of the George S. Olive C. P. A. firm spoke on "Federal Income Tax Practices and Procedures." Throughout the remainder of the year the society heard other outstanding speakers at its monthly dinner meetings.

In conjunction with the society's efforts to bring close relationship between the actual accounting practice and the classroom, arrangements were made with several of the large accounting firms of Indianapolis to give public accounting internships to several members of the society each year. First receivers of such internships were David Hughes, Marshall Samms, and Robert Swindler.

In the spring a forum meeting was held and members of the intermediate accounting classes who expect to major in accounting were invited to give them a look into what the accounting field can hold for their future.

BLUE GILLS

Blue Gills is an organization for girls who are both interested and proficient in swimming. Those who wish to become members are required to pass the American Red Cross examination for advanced swimmers. The purpose of the club is to further improve the swimming ability of its members.

Swimming sessions were held every Monday night, and the business meetings were held every other Monday night before the swimming session.

Each year's activities are climaxed by the annual water ballet which is presented in late spring, and 1947 was no exception. Blue Gills is also making plans to sponsor an inter-sorority swimming meet. A cup will be presented to the winning organization.

Blue Gills is organizing a competitive team to participate in meets at other conference schools.

The club's officers for the year included Betty Billeter, president; Joan Fate, vice-president; Pat Kirkpatrick, secretary; and Pat Bond, treasurer. Other members of the organization were Barbara Consodine, Betty Billeter, Bebita Corya, Marnita Dietrick, Barbara Shellhouse, Barbara Larson, Jackie Lawson, Mildred Marshall, Betty Maxwell, Connie Martin, Ginny McVey, Catherine Morris, Joan Schumacher, Renne Sims, Joan Fate, Pat Bond, Betty Jean Ratliff, Pat Kirkpatrick, Evelyn Ensinger, Nancy Dye, Kacloe Smock, Norma Brown, Carolyn McClaren, Pat Pearson, Kathy Hart, Peggy Aspinall, Betty Blackwell, Mary Ann Bush, Susi Swanger, Pat Coate, Sherry McDowell, Carolyn Toye, Martha Rankin, and Donna Kleyla.

The sponsor is Mrs. Magdeline Davis.

The swimming sessions were held at the Butler Pool in the Fieldhouse.

A. W. S.

The Association of Women Students, a part of the National A. W. S., is open to all college girls.

"The Whole Man," the theme for the year, was discussed by different speakers. The organization met monthly, and joined with the Y. W. C. A. for a Christmas party. A. W. S. sponsored money making projects for the Butler Building Fund. In May the annual presentation of the Scholarship cup was made to an outstanding sophomore woman, and the Attendance cup was presented to the sorority maintaining the highest percentage of attendance during the year. Mrs. Margaret Fisher was sponsor, Dean Elizabeth B. Ward was adviser. Martha Bales was president; Betty Keough, vice-president; Marianne Buschmann, secretary; and Joy Mudd, treasurer.

The Judiciary Council, as a part of A. W. S., is the governing board for coeds living in sorority houses and private homes. It meets each Thursday in the Recreation room to hear cases of schoolhouse rule violations, and to discuss problems of coeds.

The Council, made a separate unit in 1932, is headed by the A. W. S. president for the year. This year Martha Bales was president; Betty Keough, vice-president; and Marianne Buschmann, secretary; Dean Ward, sponsor.

Sign out sheets from the sorority houses are checked in the Dean of Women's office by her, the president, and the vice-president in order to check for infringement of rules. Violations of rules by girls living in private homes are reported by the owners.

JUDICIARY COUNCIL

GERMAN CLUB

The German Club offers the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with Germany and her great men. It also gives students a chance to practice conversation at meetings.

At the first meeting Mr. T. P. Fliegenschmidt presented a humorous book review. Toys for the Salvation Army were brought to the Christmas party at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Virginia Brunson, and a high school student who had spent most of his life in Germany, spoke on Christmas in Germany during the war. Other meetings were spent for the appreciation of German opera, presentation of literary analysis of great Germans and a play given by four members. A picnic was held in spring.

Bill Thompson was president; Wilma Smith, vice-president and program chairman; and Helen Need, treasurer.

Butler University Equiteers organized early last fall, as a revival of the pre-war club. It is open to all persons interested in improving their riding.

Meetings are held weekly and a monthly meeting is held at the Hoosier Dude Ranch. At each monthly meeting members ride and addresses are given by well-known horsemen throughout the state.

The Equiteers is sponsored by Mrs. Magdaline Davis. Plans have been made for a horse show next year. Officers included Edward E. Sallee, president; Deniese Thom, vice-president; Geraldine Harman, secretary-treasurer; and Jane Dillon, assistant secretary.

The Panhellenic Council composed of the president and rush chairman of each sorority on the campus, stands for unity and co-operation among the Greek-letter organizations. Although the council enforces the rules and regulations which govern the sororities, rush is the main problem with which it is concerned. During the summer, formal rush is planned and a rush booklet is prepared. Meetings are held each day during rush week to discuss any problems which arise. The council also supervises rush problems during the entire year.

On September 11, 1946, the Panhellenic Council sponsored a Panhellenic Dinner at the Indianapolis Athletic Club for the members, new pledges, alumnae and house-mothers of the seven Greek letter sororities. Guests were Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Ross, Dean Elizabeth B. Ward, Miss Louise Reiter, and Mrs. Ethelda Keiter Taylor.

The annual Panhellenic Dance was held in May. At this time a May Queen was elected to reign over the dance.

The council offers to all students the use of its loan fund which is at their disposal in emergency cases. This fund has been used to great advantage by many girls. This year the council appropriated funds to buy costumes for the cheerleaders.

Officers for the year were Joy Mudd, president, and Ann Gill, secretary-treasurer. Dean Ward is the sponsor.

Council members this year included Evelyn Goepper and Muriel Holland, Alpha Chi Omega; Betty Hearne and Betty Barnhill, Delta Delta Delta; Thelma Endicott Hann and Audrey Napp, Delta Gamma; Dorothea Beck and Jean Pittenger, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Miss Mudd and Rhea McGoldrick, Kappa Alpha Theta; Miss Gill and Betty Evard, Phi Beta Phi; and Jean Weatherald and Henrietta Rhode, Zeta Tau Alpha.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

The 1946-47 Interfraternity Council met for the first time in September and chose as officers for the year Paul Robey, Sigma Chi, president; Walter Dodd, Sigma Nu, vice-president; and John Kirkhoff, Phi Delta Theta, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the council included Dean Wildman, Robert Matthews, Ralph Lula, Harry LeBien, William Ransdell, Scott Christie and Nick Smyrnis. Prof. L. G. Burdin, chairman of the Men's Council, was advisor for the group.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of the presidents of the five fraternities on the Butler campus, plus one additional representative from each group. This year, as in previous years, the council endeavored to solve the common problems encountered in each fraternity, to work with the university for the good of the university, and to promote better understanding and cooperation among the members of the organizations.

Many new problems during the year arose due to the return of the large number of veterans to the campus. Important changes were made in regard to fraternity activities at the university.

As in the past, the council sponsored the annual Homecoming bonfire, and the Interfraternity Council formal dance. President Paul Robey appointed Gordon Gilmore, Lambda Chi Alpha, general chairman of the affair which was held in April.

Since its beginning, the Loyalty Legion has been the Butler booster club. It has been an organized effort toward furthering school spirit and promoting "all things Butler."

One of the important projects of the Loyalty Legion is its participation in the Homecoming activities. The organization sponsored the between-halves ceremonies of the Homecoming football game with Ball State. Officers of the Loyalty Legion at that time honored Homecoming Queen Marcia Tudor and presented her with a bouquet of roses. Winners of the house decorations were also announced during the ceremony and the cups were awarded the winners.

Officers during the past year were Bill Ransdell, president; Barbara Patterson, secretary; and Dick McCreedy, treasurer. Dr. Guy H. Shadinger, who presents to the president each year a key in memory of his son, Ted Shadinger, is faculty sponsor for the group.

Although the Loyalty Legion this year was not handicapped by a shortage of students, it was handicapped by the lack of school spirit. It has been, traditionally, the purpose of the organization to foster this school spirit, but it was found that no organization alone can bring about this spirit. Retiring officers and members leave with the hope that soon, with the help of the organization, school spirit at Butler will rise to pre-war heights.

THE UNIVERSITY THEATER

Early in the 1946 fall semester, there was an awakening of interest in dramatics among the university students, an interest that had remained dormant since the dissolution of the "Thespians" of earlier days. Under the leadership of Richard J. O. Greene, the Drama Club was reorganized and attained a membership of 60 students during the first semester of its organization. The officers of this new group included Richard Greene, president; Katie McIntyre, vice-president; Bebita Corya, treasurer; Patricia Niman, secretary; Bill DeWitt, production director; and George Coffin, play director.

At the beginning of the 1947 spring semester, it was felt that the group could no longer function in its fullest scope under the limitations of "club" status. At this time, with the co-operation and understanding supervision of Prof. C. H. Walters, the Drama Club was dissolved to make way for the University Theater, a chartered, university sponsored organization, and the creation of Masque and Cue as its honorary society. Mrs. Helen McTurnan was appointed faculty director, and Greene was again accorded student leadership.

Membership in the University Theater is open to students interested in any of the many phases of dramatics and in the production of theatrical presentations. The organization has been designed to provide not only an extracurricular activity in this particular field, but also as a workshop for the dramatics division of the Speech Department. Ample opportunity is offered for the student to gain practical experience in all fields necessary to the operation of such a workshop. The honorary society, Masque and Cue, draws its membership from candidates having sufficient achievement points in a system based on the requirements of Pi Epsilon Delta, the national dramatics honorary.

THE COMMERCE CLUB

All students enrolled in the college of business administration are eligible for membership in the Commerce Club. The main objective of this club is to acquaint its members with the many opportunities open to them in business, and to facilitate a wise choice in their expected field of endeavor.

During the year, speakers who are outstanding in some specialized branch of business presented to the members a picture of the business world that cannot be obtained from textbooks.

Professor Alfred Escock served as sponsor. Officers were Phyllis Augustin, president; Betty Swann, vice-president; Hilda Humpke, secretary; Margaret Dinkelaker, treasurer; and Robert Matthews, program chairman.

To stimulate interest in mathematics, to provide opportunity for discussion of current topics on the subject and to provide an opportunity for students to become better acquainted is the three-fold purpose of the Mathematics Club.

Membership is open to any student who is taking or has taken mathematics in college. Professors in the department are also eligible. Programs were presented by the students, with occasional outside speakers. Two meetings of each year are strictly social: the Christmas party and the annual picnic. Officers were Betty Beck, president; Audrey Klein, vice-president; Elsie Popplewell, secretary; Reba Marshall, treasurer; and Dorothy Reinacker, social chairman. Professor Juna L. Beal, sponsor.

MATHEMATICS CLUB

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Any student who is interested in sociology or any of its aspects is eligible to attend meetings and become a member of the Sociology Club.

Dr. James N. Peeling, head of the sociology department, is sponsor of the group. The officers for the 1946-47 school year were Shirley Loy, president; Marjorie Gaskill, vice-president; and Marian Stone, secretary-treasurer.

Programs for this year's meetings consisted of talks by prominent civic leaders and presentation of papers on religious sects prepared by students.

The purpose of the Young Republican Club is to further the interests of the Republican party and to acquaint members of the club with governmental procedure.

The Young Republicans list as some of their many activities: work at the polls in both the spring and fall elections of the past year, work at the central vote counting in the primary elections, active co-operation with other Young Republican clubs, and representatives sent to the Republican editors convention at French Lick in September.

Officers were Don Baker, president; Barbara Patterson, vice-president; Betty Hearne, secretary; and Bob Coyner, treasurer.

Y. W. C. A.

*French, Goodrich, Wells, Hann, Taggart,
Napp, Keough, Haddeth, Myers, Marshall, Kessler, Fliegenschmidt, Dinkelaker, Bond.*

The Young Women's Christian Association has endeavored to be of service to Butler University students by providing activities in which the school as a whole may participate.

Activities for the year were started by the co-sponsorship of the Freshman Mixer with the Y. M. C. A. The membership drive in October was begun with a tea. In December the annual joint Christmas party with the A. W. S. was held, followed in a few days by the traditional wreath hanging ceremonies.

In the spring the various activities included the Geneva Stunts, co-sponsored with the Y. M. C. A., the Spring Sing, and the Mother's Day Tea. A luncheon honoring the graduating seniors on the cabinet was given late in May. All during the year the Y. W. C. A. sponsored "Coke Forums" in the Campus Club. Topics of interest to all students were discussed. The W. S. S. F. Drive was held in the second semester, also.

The Y. W. C. A. was led this year by Mary Grace French, president. Other officers were June Ann Goodrich, vice-president; Barbara Wells, secretary; and Thelma Endicott Hann, treasurer.

Committee chairmen comprising the cabinet were: program, Rebecca Taggart; social, Audrey Napp; ways and means, Betty Keough; devotions, Jane Haddeth; house, Barbara Myers; social service, Mildred Marshall; music, Mary Alice Kessler; handbook, Margaret Dinkelaker; art, Patricia Bond; and publicity, Carol Ann Fliegenschmidt.

Faculty sponsor for the year was Miss Rebecca Pitts of the English Department.

Y. M. C. A.

Co-winner with the Y. W. C. A. of the Lamp of Wisdom trophy, given to the organization for the most outstanding service to Butler in 1945-46, the Y. M. C. A. continued its policy of promoting student projects for the benefit of the university as well as its members.

The association achieved its largest membership in history with a total of 578 male students. Lambda Chi Alpha won the trophy for contributing the most memberships.

One of the highest totals ever obtained for a relief drive was realized during the W. S. S. F. campaign, co-sponsored with Y. W. C. A. A series of "Coke Forums" was conducted by the organization in the Campus Club.

Fulfilling its central purpose of bringing Christian service to the student body, the Y sponsored a convocation featuring Lyman Hoover, a Butler graduate and national secretary of student work for the Y. M. C. A. A series of Lenten Devotions were written for publication in the Collegian the week before Easter.

Other activities of the organization included the co-sponsoring with the Y. W. C. A. of the Geneva Stunts, the Summer Shuffle and the Freshman Mixer. Publications issued by the Y were the Student Directory and the Rhinie Guide.

A tremendous contribution to the Y's efforts was made by the new, capable North District Branch Executive Secretary of the Indianapolis Y. M. C. A., J. Henry Miller.

Officers for the year were Ralph Iula, president; Urban Simonton, vice-president; Bill Osborne, secretary; and Don Payne, treasurer.

The cabinet members were Bill Ransdell, publication; Don Siebert, publicity; Bill Pittman, community affairs; Tom Bemis, campus affairs; Burdette Bisselberg, world affairs; W. Scott Hargis, religious affairs; Bob Wells, freshman activities; Jim Sullivan, conferences; Dee Compton, Y room maintenance; and Bill Thompson, advisory committee.

RED CROSS CLUB

New to Butler this year was the Red Cross Club. Its purpose is to give instruction in the various fields of Red Cross work in order to aid the Indianapolis chapter.

A clubmobile unit served coffee and donuts on the campus last fall to promote interest in Red Cross activities to be given at Butler. Arts and crafts, nurse's aid, swimming, life saving, boating and canoeing were among the various activities offered to club members.

The first meeting of the club was held at the Indianapolis chapter house and the following officers were appointed by Virgil Sheppard, Red Cross director; Patricia Brown, president; Mildred Marshall, vice-president; and Henrietta Rohde, secretary. Dean Elizabeth B. Ward is sponsor.

The Psychology Club is designed to promote interest in psychology and furnish the opportunity for study in that field. The club, which was originated in 1939, is open to anyone interested in the science.

Meetings were held at the sorority houses this year and a discussion period followed each program. Dr. William Livingston, sponsor, related his experiences as director of a school for moronic children, a member of Alcoholics Anonymous explained that group, a hypnotist gave a demonstration and other speakers told their psychological experiences in business and education.

Officers for the year were Rebecca Millholland, president; Shirley Loy, vice-president; and Eulah Davis, secretary-treasurer.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club is the only group of its kind on the Butler campus. It is an organization of Catholic students to promote social and religious activities. The first club was organized at the University of Pennsylvania in 1893.

This year the club was inactive during the first semester, but in February was reorganized and officers were elected. Miss Elna Jane Hilliard was selected as faculty sponsor and the group planned monthly Communion breakfasts for the remainder of the year. Discussion groups met on Sunday afternoons under the direction of the Rev. Father William Buhmeier. The activities of the year were climaxed by a picnic held in Forest Park at Noblesville.

Officers were Bill Tobin, president; Betty Blackwell, vice-president; Carolyn Finn, secretary, and James Leo Tuohy, treasurer.

The Butler Band under the direction of Charles Henzie, has completed another successful year despite the handicap of having inadequate bandroom facilities in which to rehearse properly.

During the year, the band represented Butler on numerous occasions. The blue uniformed members were present at many Butler functions and at the home football games and one football game away from home at DePauw University. The band marched between halves of the football games and with the help of the high stepping majorettes and color guard formed letters of the respective schools.

The numerous other activities of the band were giving intermission music and half-time routines at the home basketball games, marching in the Homecoming parade and playing for Founder's Day, Honor Day, Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. At Christmas time, students on their way to convocation heard a brass ensemble from the band play carols from a spot on the roof of Jordan Hall.

The most outstanding feature of this year's band was the stimulation of school spirit at the games by the use of "swinging yells," led by the energetic bandmaster and drill formations.

DRUM MAJORETTES—COLOR GUARD

The Butler Color Guard, a selected group, presented a colorful accompaniment to the Butler band during the year. Clad in traditional blue jackets and white skirts, the girls marched with the band in each of its appearances.

Members of the group are chosen on a basis of appearance, scholarship and ability to execute marching drills. During the year the girls must maintain a school-determined grade average to continue in the color guard.

The color guard made its first appearance at the opening football game. Football fans saw the girls execute baton twirling and marching formations at the half of each home game. They made their first appearance away from home with the band at the DePauw Dad's Day football game.

During basketball season, formations were made before the games and at half time. The combined band and color guard were honored by leading the Army Day parade through the downtown sector and also by being asked to participate in the Armistice Day parade.

Color guard members learned intricate marching routines along with the band at their daily meetings.

Rose Marie Steinbach served as head drum majorette and directed the activities of the group. Majorettes Mary Ann Hands and Jackie Lawson assisted.

Members of the color guard for the first semester included Bebita Corya, Patti Donnelly, Jeanne Gaston, Barbara Montgomery, Barbara Patterson and Mary Schreiber. Second semester members were Rosemary Daniels, Marnita Dietrich, Patti Donnelly, Delores Dougall, Jeanne Gaston, Janice Kaiser, Barbara Montgomery, Barbara Patterson, Mary Schreiber, Jackie Smith and Janet Steinkamp.

Student Volunteers, a national organization with a missionary spirit and purpose, originated in Mount Vernon, Massachusetts, in 1886. The stated objectives of the organization were: to maintain interest in foreign missions; to help these prepare for service; to lay an equal burden of responsibility on those at home. The Butler chapter was organized on October 20, 1941, with Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Cory as sponsors. Membership is open to all who are in sympathy with the purposes of the organization.

A primary object has been to create a Christian vision of the world missionary task among students at Butler University. To this end semi-monthly programs are held, at which missionaries on furlough or en route are guest speakers.

Student Volunteers from Butler University who are preparing to go to foreign missionary fields are: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Best, George Beckman and Ethel Brown, going to Japan; Dr. and Mrs. John E. Ross, South Africa; Robert Bond and Lloyd Tatlock, China; J. J. Hill, Korea; and Carson Fremont, the Philippines.

The establishing and encouraging of personal interest and activity in the support of missionary work is accomplished through the visiting of local churches, and the enrichment of the spiritual life of the student body through morning devotions and Sunday chapel services.

Officers of Student Volunteers are: Robert Bond, executive secretary; Ethel Brown, recording secretary; Martha Kendall, corresponding secretary; Chester Parker, financial secretary; Wanda Coil, program chairman; and Martin Clark, project chairman.

The Student Ministerial Association is one of the oldest organizations at the university. The organization began on the old Irvington campus and was then called the "Sandwich Club." Since that time it has become one of the most active associations composed of students majoring in religion. Every student of the School of Religion and every major in religion in the Department of Religion is eligible for membership.

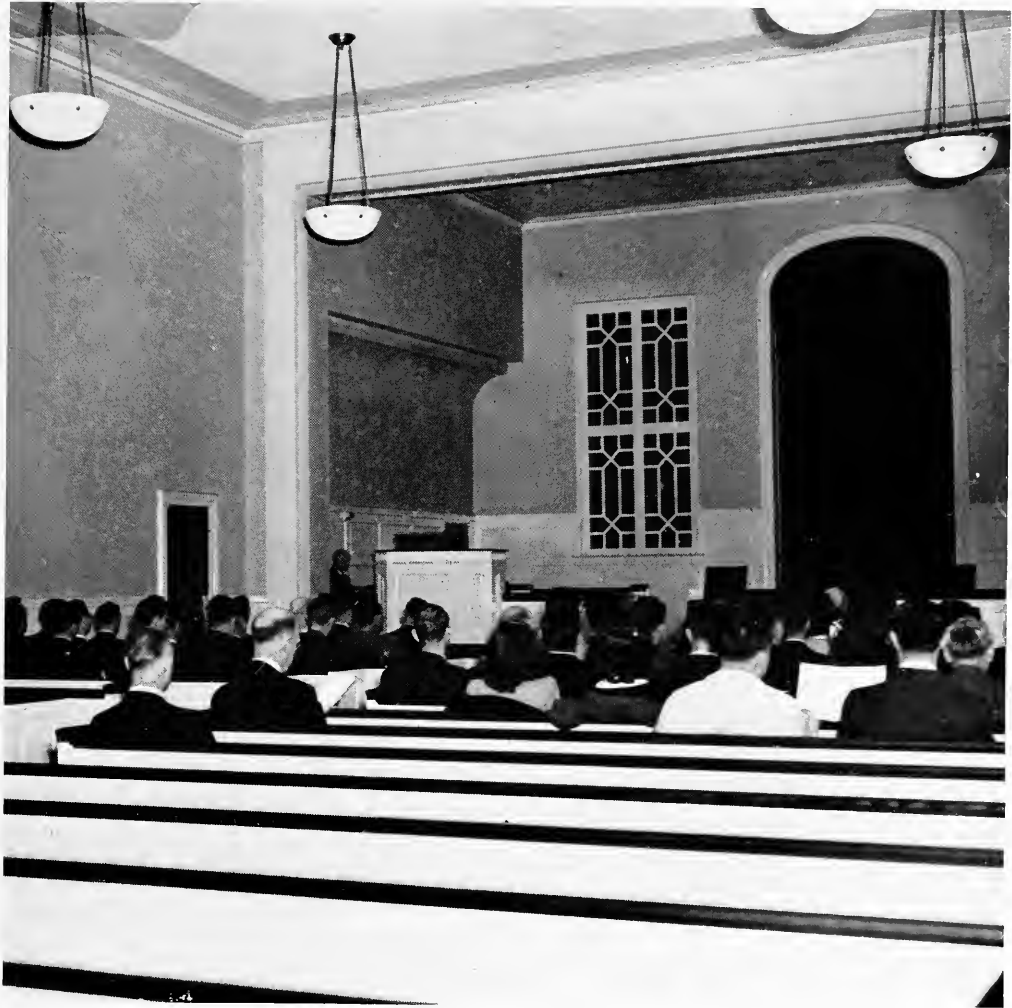

The constitution states the following purposes of the association: "The fostering of high ideals of life and work among students for the Christian ministry; the expression of these ideals in an increasing sense of comradeship in Christ, concern for the growth of the Church, and interest in the development of this school. The embodiment of these ideals in group projects."

Through the monthly meetings and the annual social events, the organization has promoted a spirit of comradeship in the common task and has advanced the cultural life of the student body. The meetings are educational and present a challenge for all ministerial students. The Zelotai Club, an auxiliary organization composed of ministers' wives, has made an invaluable contribution to the work of the association.

The activities of the organization are not limited to the Butler campus. During the past year, the group sent representatives to the conferences of the Inter-Seminary Movement which were held at Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, Ohio, and has assisted in several emergency situations.

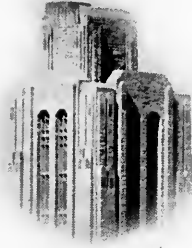

Officers were: William J. Richardson, president; Harry Baird, graduate representative; Henry E. Hill, undergraduate representative; James Hunter, acting secretary and treasurer.

FEATURES

Sleepy Joe signed his name to many dance programs during the activity-filled year, '46-'47. Glittering proms, sorority and fraternity balls and informal hops danced the leather off his favorite shoes and kept his budget drained of any extra cash. He sweat out each queen election with a different caucus, but applauded the royal winner every time. With a Homecoming celebration, three class dances, Drift Beauty contest and all the other important social functions taking up so much time, it's a wonder Sleepy Joe ever stayed awake in classes—or did he?

DRIFT BEAUTIES

Five more coeds joined the long list of campus beauties honored each year by the Fairview yearbook. Presented as winners these girls were claimed the Drift Beauty Queens of 1947 at the annual contest held this year at the Riviera Club on December 18.

With approximately 350 students witnessing the competition, judges P. H. Ho, photographer, Robert Weaver, of the John Herron Art School and Miss Edna Hilliard, Butler mathematics instructor, narrowed the field of 31 entrants to 15 semi-finalists. Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the 500 Mile Race and president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, acted as honorary judge and helped pick and announced the five winners.

In previous years, the final five were chosen on the basis of photogenic qualities by a Hollywood celebrity. This year's winners received the honor of being chosen from the judging ramp.

Each Greek-letter sorority, B. I. A., Trianon and the unorganized students entered three contestants. Kappa Alpha Theta received an extra entry for selling more tickets than any other organization in the contest.

HOME-COMING

One of the most impressive Home-coming celebrations in recent years was held on the Butler campus October 25 and 26. The campus was the scene of whirlwind activity with the agenda for the week-end including an alumni-teachers' luncheon, freshman-sophomore fight, a radio program, parade, bonfire, house decorations contest, football game, luncheons, open houses and the dance.

ACTIVITIES

Sophomore defenders of the famed greased pole successfully prevented the freshman coalition from snatching the flag of victory to win the traditional freshman-sophomore fight. Sigma Nu fraternity won the trophy for the largest woodpile in the wood gathering competition and the bonfire pep session had a warming effect on all who attended.

Revival of the Home-coming parade, discontinued during the war years, was a highlight in the week-end activities. Sponsored by Utes and Spurs, sophomore men's and women's honoraries, the parade was held Friday afternoon in downtown Indianapolis. Cars and floats were entered by each fraternity, sorority, Trianon and B. I. A. The Butler Band and the Home-Coming queen with her escort led the procession of flotilla. Sigma Nu and Delta Delta Delta floats were judged best for originality, appropriateness, decorations and costumes. Trophies were presented at the Homecoming dance.

Saturday morning saw fraternities and sororities putting last minute touches on house decorations in preparation for judging. Delta Tau Delta and Alpha Chi Omega came out winners in this contest sponsored annually by Scarlet Quill, senior women's honorary. Judges included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Gilfoy and Elizabeth B. Ward, dean of women.

Home-coming activities came to a climax in the afternoon as students, professors, graduates and sports fans gathered to see the Butler eleven down Ball State in the annual gridiron battle.

The coveted Home-coming queenship title this year went to Marcia Tudor, Kappa Alpha Theta candidate. Miss Home-coming for 1946 was introduced at the football game with the members of her court: Jacque Loser, Delta Gamma; Marjorie Lang, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Patricia Smith, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Ryan, Pi Beta Phi; and Mary Ann Marks, Alpha Chi Omega.

Marcia Tudor became the only Home-coming queen in history to be crowned at a "Post-Home-coming" dance. Due to a booking error Barney Rapp's orchestra was playing in Nashville, Tennessee, while an estimated 1,500 people jammed the Fieldhouse awaiting music for the dance.

Queen Marcia reigned in the royal role one week late when she was presented with the crown and Home-coming queen trophy. Scarlet Quill and Blue Key, senior honoraries, were co-sponsors of the hop.

FRESHMAN
DANCE

Peggy Harrison, Pi Beta Phi pledge, reigned as queen over the nineteenth annual Freshman Rose Dance held this year in the Egyptian Room of the Murat Temple, February 7.

During the intermission, Freshman Class President John Chestnut presented the queen with a crown of white roses, a bouquet of American beauty roses and the Rose Queen trophy. Sigma Nu fraternity was awarded a trophy for leading the ticket sale contest held between the Greek-letter organizations.

Following the crowning ceremony, Miss Harrison and her court led the grand march with their escorts. Ann Bowyer, Trianon; Barbara Boyer, Alpha Chi Omega; Margery Cunningham, Zeta Tau Alpha; Evelyn Ensinger, Delta Gamma; Carolyn Lee Johnson, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Moore, Kappa Alpha Theta; Virginia Shippey, Kappa Kappa Gamma; and Patricia Catherine Welch, un-organized, were the queen's attendants.

Max Wilson and his orchestra played for the dancing which lasted from 9 until 12 p. m. The dance was chairmaned by John Dove assisted by Patricia Cutter, Anna Harshman, George Leamson, Barbara Boyer and Mary Jo Pierce.

Chaperons for the event were Prof. Rosamond R. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. M. G. Bridenstine, Prof. and Mrs. B. W. Sparks, and Mr. Harry R. Branson.

SOPHOMORE

March 8 was the date of the annual Sophomore Cotillion sponsored by the second-year students at Butler. The Murat's Egyptian Room was the scene of the ball and Chuck Smith's orchestra provided music from 9 until 12 p. m.

Alpha Chi Jean Minney, who was swept into the queen-ship by a majority vote of the men in her class, was crowned Sophomore Sweetheart of 1947 during the intermission. A trophy was also given to Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity for winning the ticket sales contest.

COTILLION

While more than 300 couples looked on, Sophomore Class President Walter Dodd placed a crown of white carnations on Miss Minney's head and presented her with a dozen red roses and a gold trophy.

Members of the Queen's court were Carolyn Finn, Pi Beta Phi; Patsy Huber, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Larson, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Joan Parkhurst, Kappa Alpha Theta; Patsy Thompson, Zeta Tau Alpha; and Marjorie Little, B. I. A.

Assisting John Hansgen, chairman of the dance, were Dean Wonders, tickets; Merrill Huntzinger, publicity; Jay Poole, band; John Glass and Scott Christie, hall; Joy Wichser, decorations; Walker Kemper, trophy; Berry Miller, arrangements and programs; and Jane Klepfer, guests and chaperons.

JUNIOR

With the music of Dick Jurgens and his "Here's That Band Again" organization as the highlight, the 1947 Junior Prom was acclaimed by many the biggest and best class dance in the history of Fairview.

Approximately 1,200 Butler students witnessed the crowning of Kappa Kappa Gamma's Ann Metzger as queen of the traditional dance, held this year at the Indiana Roof on April 11.

Climaxing the season's social activities, the third-year class dance lasted from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. and was broadcast for a half hour over radio station WIRE. Three fraternities revived Prom breakfasts, a regular feature before the war, following the ball, and house hours were extended to 4 a. m. for girls attending the breakfasts.

PROM . . . . 1947

During the crowning ceremony Miss Metzger was presented with a bouquet of roses and the Junior Prom Queen trophy. Robert Matthews, class president, made the presentation. Seated on a throne in the center of the ballroom, Queen Ann was surrounded by the members of her court which included Georgia Gianakos, and Joy Hedges, Independents; Phyllis Hollar, Delta Delta Delta; Virginia Kelly, Alpha Chi Omega; Jacque Lofer, Delta Gamma; Barbara Park, Pi Beta Phi; Nancy Schreiber, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Dorothy Young, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Norman Paxton, Sigma Nu, who won first place over 30 other candidates in the beard growing contest, was awarded a $25 gift certificate from L. Strauss and Company. Also he and the two second place winners, Neal Feichter, Sigma Nu, and Bob Bevis, Phi Delta Theta, attended the Prom on free tickets.

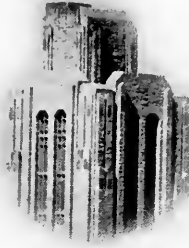

Dean Wildman was general chairman of the affair. Committee chairmen included Bob Coyner, band; Omar Bruner, beard growing contest; Athena Gianakos, decorations; Bob Winters, trophies; Jack Bailey, hall; Bill Smith, tickets; and Bill Tobin, publicity.

ATHLETICS

Even Sleepy Joe was forced to sit up and take notice of the Butler athletic program during the 1946-47 school year. The venerable old fellow did more than that; he actually stood up and cheered for the Bulldog squads which carried the Blue and White colors in a banner year never before equaled at Butler. With Athletic Director Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle showing the way, and with a revised staff of assistants offering their aid, Fairview football and basketball teams again forged into the national spotlight, and baseball and track, weak during the war years, were ready to make their bids for Hoosier state championship honors.

FAIRVIEW

The athletic picture for the year 1946-47 began to shape up before the beginning of summer vacation as the Bulldogs became charter members of the Mid-American Conference of Urban Universities along with Cincinnati, Ohio University, Wayne, and Western Reserve. Scheduled for full-scale athletic competition in major as well as minor sports, the Mid-American Conference got under way in an inauspicious cross country meet, and launched full-scale operation with basketball competition.

In expectation of the heavier competition, Galvin (Johnnie) Walker was brought in from an assistant-coaching berth at Ohio State to become head cinder mentor in place of Ray Sears, who had left for Marion High School in June. Former Fairview star Bob Dietz was added to the staff as head tennis and assistant basketball coach, and in from Iowa came former Bulldog grid performer Jim Hauss to aid in football chores and to coach the Bulldog golf men. Chet McNerney, a graduate of Indiana University and a former assistant at Washington High School in Indianapolis, was added to the grid staff, which already was bolstered by Wally Middlesworth and John Raybold.

Still on, of course, was Hink's chief assistant, Herb Schwomeyer, who piloted the freshman hardwood team as well as assisting in football, baseball, and serving as Intramural director. Two other former Butler men, Phil Reisler and Jim Morris, were put on the growing staff. Reisler was signed to handle a varsity swimming squad, and Morris was assigned a training room in the basement of the Fieldhouse to administer to the aches and pains of all the athletes.

In no time at all the enlarged staff began to pay off. Starting slowly, the football team relied heavily on luck in winning two of its first three games, and then improved greatly to finish the season with an unblemished Indiana College Conference record and its first state title since the 1939 season.

With a 7-and-1 football record to boast of, the sport-light fell on basketball, and the Bulldogs soon fashioned one of the most successful hardwood teams in years. Resembling the Fairview Flyers of old, the 1946-47 cagers used veterans Jerry Cranny and Captain Herod Toon as a nucleus and built the rest of the squad around freshmen.

Their play was beautiful to watch, and Indianapolis sports fans apparently couldn't get enough of the Blue. The spacious athletic plant was filled three times during the season, and attendance was high at every game.

Nosed out by DePauw in its bid for the I. C. C. net crown, the Butler quintet none the less earned a share of the first Mid-American title with Cincinnati.

Baseball was set for a fourteen game season and Walker's trackmen, after brief indoor competition in the Illinois Tech and Purdue Relays, was ready for outdoor meets with both Indiana and Mid-American squads.

While varsity performers were drawing attention from the outside sports world, campus sports fans were again battling for honors in the Intramural leagues. Lambda Chi Alpha nosed out Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Nu in football action, but the Phi Delt captured the I-M hardwood competition in a neck-and-neck race with three teams. In a postseason all-school tourney, however, Crew came through to capture honors. Sigma Chi won the I-M swimming tourney.

Honors, too, came to Butler's athletes from outside sources. On the all-state grid eleven, first team honors went to Tackle Mel Perrone, Center Ott Hurrell, End Knute Dobkins, and Halfback Orville Williams. Fullback Francis Moriarty and Guard Wally Potter were named to the second team, and honorable mention went to Kenny Gieman, Bull Kuntz, and Norman (Gobby) Williams. In basketball, Charlie Maas was selected to the first team of the all-state five, and Jerry Cranny was named to the second team. Butler's other three starters, John Barrowcliff, Ralph (Buckshot) O'Brien, and Herod Toon were given honorable mention.

FOOTBALL

BUTLER 19, EASTERN ILLINOIS 12—A terrific first quarter, which saw Butler's Bulldogs score three rapid touchdowns, was enough to supply a winning margin for Coach Tony Hinkle's gridders in their opening test. Some 8,000 shirt-sleeved fans, in the Bowl, on September 28, were startled as the Bulldogs hit through the air in the opening minutes and then capitalized on a pass interception and blocked a pass to add two more tallies in the first period. The Bulldog offense bogged down in the final three quarters, but the Panthers' two touchdowns in the third period were not enough to overcome the Butler margin.

BUTLER 13, INDIANA STATE 7—A Frank Merriwell finish in the final 25 seconds by Halfback Orville Williams taking a desperation pass from Jim McLinn, provided the thrill of a lifetime for 7,500 spectators on October 5, and gave the Bulldogs their second victory of the season. Outplayed and outfought all the way until the final seconds, Butler had scored its initial touchdown on a 40-yard run-back of freak pass interception by Center Ott Hurrle in the second period. The Bulldogs missed their first conversion attempt, and the Sycamore's were ahead until the game-winning play by virtue of a third period touchdown and conversion.

WESTERN MICHIGAN 19, BUTLER 0—Thoughts of an undefeated season for the bulldogs ended on the snow and rain-swept gridiron at Kalamazoo, Michigan, on October 12. Hampered by fumbles and bad breaks, the Bulldogs could not get their offensive moving. Scoring in the first three quarters, the Broncos held Butler completely in check. The Bulldogs penetrated Western Michigan territory only once when Tackle Mel Perrone recovered a fumble on the Bronco 25 in the second period.

BUTLER 41, DePAUW 6—Impotent offensively for more than two weeks, the Bulldogs exploded against DePauw's Tigers, in Greencastle, on October 19. Striking through the air and smashing relentlessly along the ground, Butler scored in every period, and allowed the Tigers to tally only against reserves in the final quarter. A fractured arm, suffered by reserve Halfback Bill Kerbock, cast the only shadow on the game, which was marked by the offensive performances of Francis Moriarty and Orville Williams.

1946-47

BUTLER 20, BALL STATE 6—A Homecoming crowd of 12,000 was on hand in the Bowl on October 26, and the Bulldogs rewarded their followers with a late display of power to avenge a 16-to-2 upset suffered at the hands of the Cardinals last season. Held to a 6-to-0 lead for three quarters, the Bulldogs came to life in the final session as Jim McLinn connected on a pass to Bill Sylvester for the second Butler score, and Williams circled left end for the final touchdown. After Orville's final score, McLinn added his only conversion.

BUTLER 25, WABASH 7—A soggy turf in the Bowl on November 3, failed to halt the Bulldogs' march to the Indiana College Conference championship as they knocked Wabash's Little Giants from the ranks of the undefeated, 25 to 7. In a brilliantly played game before more than 9,000, the Bulldogs scored three times through the air and once on the ground to advance within two games of the ICC title.

BUTLER 31, ST. JOSEPH'S 6—Coach Tony Hinkle's gridders continued their offensive march against a crippled St. Joe eleven, and annexed their sixth victory of the year on November 9 in the Bowl. Some 5,000 shivering fans were on hand as Orville Williams streaked 81 yards in the first two minutes for Butler's first score, and then watched a convincing ground attack that netted four more touchdowns to only one for the Puma's.

BUTLER 25, VALPARAISO 0—Butler's first Indiana College grid title in more than seven years came to Bulldogs on November 16 in the Fairview stadium, as the Bulldogs splashed over Valparaiso, 25 to 0. A crowd of 2,500 which braved a steady downpour to see the opening of the game dwindled to slightly more than a hundred fans by the time the game was over, but the day was all blue skies for the Blue and White. Fullback Moriarty carried the load for the Bulldogs as they scored in every period, and Williams scored two touchdowns to bring his total points for the season to 54.

BASKETBALL 1946-47

WISCONSIN 60 - BUTLER 52—Five thousand first-nighters watched the freshman laden Bulldogs fall before a late Wisconsin scoring splurge on December 9. The Badgers, eventual Western Conference champions, had the advantage of three season encounters prior to the Butler tilt. Bob Cook, Wisconsin's left-handed basket artist, lead the scoring parade with 22 points.

BUTLER 41 - PITTSBURGH 39—Four days after the opener, Pitt's whirling figure eight offense baffled Hink's hustlers in the initial stanza, but the Blue boys came back admirably in the second half to even their seasonal record. Freshmen Charlie Maas and Ralph (Buckshot) O'Brien copped scoring honors with nine counters each.

BUTLER 58 - CINCINNATI 53—Victory number one in the brand new Mid-American Conference came on December 19. Accurate-shooting "Buckshot" O'Brien rifled in 10 markers in pacing Butler to a 27-to-22 halftime advantage, and then picked up five more in the final act to take pitching laurels. Bill Shepherd matched O'Brien's first half firing by garnering 10 ducats in the last stanza.

BUTLER 59 - CANTERBURY 54—A Saturday night gathering of 3,550 dropped in on the northside basket plant for a quick peek at lofty Jim Springer, the Bishops' highly touted scoring ace. Mr. Springer obliged by tossing in 25 counters in a vain effort to stop the high-g geared Butler machine. Capt. Herod Toon led Bulldog scorers with 21 points in the December 28 clash.

NORTHWESTERN 44 - BUTLER 40—A Butler tendency to foul plus Wildcat accuracy at the charity stripe, added up to a Northwestern victory over in the Evanston goalers on New Year's Eve. Thus far Butler's only losses were to Big Nine aggregations. "Big Jawn" Barrowcliff and the ever-present O'Brien paced the Bulldogs with O'Brien's 11 totaling high.

BUTLER 52 - INDIANA 41—The Bulldogs, chock-full of holiday spirit and New Year's resolutions, waited but one day to test them on the battlefield and simply out-hurried the vaunted speed merchants from down Bloomington way. Playing alert defensive ball and shooting with deadly accuracy, Butler completely harnessed the "merry mac" marksmen throughout the game. Jerry Cranny, scoring ace turned floor man, and Shepherd turned in A-1 defensive performances. "The Buck" was once again the winning pitcher, this time with 15.

BUTLER 77 - WESTERN RESERVE 60—Only an ardent ping pong enthusiast could walk away from the Fieldhouse without an aching cranium as both teams raced down the floor with amazing rapidity. The Fairviewers, still in high gear as a result of the Indiana match, two nights previous, just ran 'til the Red Cats cried uncle. Herod Toon led the Butler attack with 23 markers, but he had to take second place to Reserve's Lefty Hank Lefkowitz, who kept all mouths agape with his looping one-handed shots. Lefkowitz counted 25 points.

NOTRE DAME 86 - BUTLER 40—Any Butler man will tell you why the Ramblers were rated as one of the top teams in the country. They had it. The Hinklemen fought courageously but it would take an aggregation of supermen to top the smooth playing Irish on their own home grounds. Charlie Maas proved to be the only spark on a very dark night by amassing 18 points in South Bend on January 4.

BUTLER 65-DEPAUW 61—Charlie Maas helped himself to a big evening January 11 by tossing in 13 field goals and a solitary charity throw to pace his fellow competitors into the undisputed lead in the I. C. C. circuit. This was the first defeat of the year for the Tigers.

BUTLER 56 - WESTERN RESERVE 53—It was much closer on the Red Cats home floor on January 15, but the Bulldogs grabbed the lead early and held it down to the wire. Butler now had three successive victories in Mid-American competition.

BUTLER 55 - VALPARAISO 43—Five thousand five hundred followers watched the locals climb into the drivers seat of the I. C. C. on January 25. That heralded "T" formation may pay off on the gridiron, but as the Crusaders presented it on the basketball floor, it merely provided another work-a-day evening for the Hinklemen. Hank Berning of Valparaiso stole high scoring honors with 17 counters and "Forever" O'Brien led the Bulldogs with 14.

BUTLER 54 - OHIO STATE 50—Overcoming a four point halftime deficit, Butler once again proved to be an insurmountable obstacle on the fieldhouse floor on January 27. Those toughies from Columbus just didn't concentrate on the hoop.

BUTLER 79 - WAYNE 26—Quite a few Butler fans prognosticated correctly in selecting January 29, as just the right night to stay home. The 2,500 who braved the frigid winter air, watched the Butlerites romp over the Tartars with obvious ease.

BUTLER 80 - OHIO U. 70—Hink's snipers garnered their first 80 point total of the year and they well nigh had to in order to stay ahead of the fast moving Bobcats. Charlie Maas, who was pulling dangerously close to Jerry Cranny's one year scoring record, took scoring honors with 21 markers as the Blue opened a new month of play.

NOTRE DAME 73 - BUTLER 60—It was the same old shillelagh and a record 12,000 fans watched the Irish ply it where it hurt most in the Fieldhouse on February 3. Led by Cranny and O'Brien, Butler made a much better fight in its own backyard, but fell short of that bedazzling Irish offense. Franny Curran of Notre Dame headed the evening's scorers with 21 ducats.

BUTLER 53 - WABASH 40—The Cavemen could afford little opposition for a team that was burning under a Notre Dame defeat. It was Butler all the way. Cranny continued to celebrate the return of that potent basket eye by tossing in 14 points in the game played at Crawfordsville on February 6.

BUTLER 68 - VALPARAISO 44—The Bulldogs knew how to cross their "T's" and proved it for the second time at Valpo on February 12. Fireman Charlie Maas totaled 18 points for his contribution to the evening. Maas was now within skipping distance of Jerry Cranny's one year scoring mark of 217 points.

BUTLER 63 - WABASH 49—All eyes were on Maas in the Fieldhouse on February 15. Shortly before the half, the limber-legged Eastsider slipped under the hoop and crippled that all-important right hander. This gave him an aggregate on 218 points and a Butler scoring record was broken. Charlie's teammates chipped in to win the ball game handily and only DePauw stood between Butler and the I. C. C. throneroom.

DEPAUW 49 - BUTLER 39—Five days later that was that. After a first half tie, a ret hot Tiger, ably abetted by a cigar box gym, threw a wrench into Butler machinery and strode into the big chair at the top of the Indiana Conference. Maas was the only Bulldog to hit consistently. He had nine points.

BUTLER 56 - PURDUE 49—Another record 12,500 students of the art of hoopla enjoyed Washington's birthday as the Bulldogs came from behind repeatedly to win going away in an overtime session. Chuckin' Charlie Maas made a niche for himself in the hearts of Butler fans by calmly tossing in a 40-foot set shot to knot the count in the waning seconds of the regulation period. Those now-you-see-it-now-you-don't boys, Jim Doyle and Bob Evans, performed creditably against Purdue's razzle-dazzle attack.

BUTLER 57 - WAYNE 49—They had a big basketball awakening up in Detroit on February 28 and Butler got sandwiched right in the middle. A rejuvenated Wayne quintet forced the Bulldogs to go all out to win in the fourth quarter.

OHIO U. 63 - BUTLER 53—Those Bobcats were ready, willing and extremely capable of handing the Bulldogs their first Mid-American loss of the season on March 3.

CINCINNATI 61 - BUTLER 51—We'll settle for a tie. The Queen City boys, with March 5 as D-Day, wanted a share of that loop title and they were not to be denied. They jumped into an early lead and stayed in the saddle throughout the fray. Bob Evans led a slow Butler attack with nine counters. Charlie Maas finished the season with 260 points, placing himself in an inside lane in the race for Bob Dietz's all-time Butler scoring mark.

Both O'Brien and Cranny are close behind Maas in this race.

1947 brought, among other things, a revived student interest in Butler track events. And rightly so. Galvin Walker serving his first season as Fairview cinder boss, turned out an aggregation that would do justice to any university.

Reporting aboard in September, 1946, Walker immediately assumed the duties of outdoor mentor by sending the cross-country squad to the front 11 times. With Jim Cline and Earl Hoff doing most of the heavy work, they returned with a record of three wins, four reverses and one tie. The cross-country team also competed in the Little State, Big State, and Mid-American Conference tournaments.

Almost as soon as the cross-country season was terminated, Walker sent out a call for track aspirants and began the long tedious task of preparing his charges for the oncoming season.

Bulldog fans (the ones rabid enough to journey to Lafayette or Chicago) got a preview of potential Butler cinder power early last spring when Walker sent a hand picked squad to the Illinois Tech and Purdue Relays at the close of the indoor season.

Then on April 19, the boys in the scanty outfits inaugurated the new season as well as Mid-American Conference activities by trouncing a highly touted Cincinnati outfit 73 1-3 to 55 2-3.

Courtney Gerrish, the state 880-Yard Run champ, found things just as he left them at the end of the previous season and showed his appreciation by breaking the tape in the 880, and 440 yard runs. And then anchoring the victorious mile relay team.

Working hard to achieve perfection, the boys in blue, continued to improve their times with each successive meet. They proved themselves to be one of the best balanced teams in Butler track history as they romped over Anderson, Canterbury, and Ball State with obvious ease.

Gerrish, Capt. Jack Rice, Howard Manifold, Wally Potter, Earl Hoff and Paul Garriot won repeatedly, with the rest of the team proving, in many cases to be the second and third best men on the field, giving the Butlerites grand slam finishes in numerous events.

On May 4, Wayne university, one of the best aggregations in the midwest stopped on the Fairview campus long enough to halt the Bulldog victory spien at four. Paced by Lorenzo Wright, who has been compared to the great Allan Tomich, the boys from the Motor City just got up and ran away from the Walkermen. Final score: 82 1-3 to 46 2-3.

A good track team is one that can take a decisive drubbing and come back better than ever. Butler had a good track team.

With Howard Manifold's 23 feet, 2 and 3-4 inch broad jump, the best mark of the state collegiate season, taking premier honors, the Northsiders walloped Indiana State 87 to 51.

High point of the season came on May 17 when the Butler boys rewarded Walker with a I. C. C. conference championship. Capt. Jack Rice, bowing out of state track competition won his third Little State Mile crown as the Fairviewers made hash out of a soggy track in piling up 70 1-3 points, far ahead of the 34 garnered by second place Ball State.

The season was ended May 24, with the first annual Mid-American conference extravaganza. Those mighty Tartars of Wayne once again proved insurmountable and the Bulldogs left Detroit as the second best team in the Conference.

Proof of the fine balance of the local thinyclad was clearly shown when the monograms were passed around. Eighteen men received letters and one was awarded a numeral.

Fieldman, Wally Potter, who captained the 1946 football team, was presented the Andy Williams Memorial award.

Coach Tony Hinkle brought his charges to a halt at the close of the 1947 baseball season with a record of nine victories and six defeats.

A combination of veterans and newcomers formed the nucleus of last years diamond nine that scored double wins over Wabash and Fort Harrison and chalked up single triumphs over DePauw, Ball State, Canterbury and Ohio.

Those Hoosier bulwarks of the Western Conference, Indiana and Purdue, proved to be immovable objects for the Bluesox, at least as far as baseball is concerned, in giving them double defeat doses. Ball State and Ohio each managed a single win over the Butlermen.

Leftfielder Lothair Manifold led the batting parade with an average that stood over the .400 mark.

A happy note may be sounded in the observation that of the regulars only Manifold and Norman "Gobby" Williams will not return next year.

A pitching staff composed of portsiders Art Cook and Paul Bain and Righthanders Jack Bradford and John Males garnered the hurling assignments with Charlie Maas doing most of the heavy work behind the plate.

Williams, Knute Dobkins, Jim Doyle, Dee Compton and Herod Toon covered the basepath area and Manifold, Walt Fields and Jim Rosenstihl patrolled the outer pastures.

"Blackie" Blackburn, Dee Baker and Lou Buhgler also came in for a considerable amount of heavy action in utility roles.

TENNIS 1946-47

Making its first appearance as a major spring sport in more than four years, intercollegiate tennis returned to the Fieldhouse courts this season with Bob Dietz as its coach.

With a nucleus of six dependable performers, Dietz wove a squad which suffered only two losses in six scheduled matches, and then wound up the year with creditable showings in the State and Mid-American Conference meets.

Starting with a loss to Earlham, the Bulldogs came back to score victories over Indiana, Indiana State, Ball State and Wabash. Only a loss to highly ranked Cincinnati provided a further blemish to the season. However, the schedule was completed satisfactorily.

GOLF 1946-47

Jim Hauss, former Butler athlete induced from Iowa State College to join the athletic department in January, coached Butler's first links team since the season before the war.

With two veterans and two newcomers as regular competitors, Hauss led the Blue and White golfers over the fairways to victories over Indiana, Indiana State, Ball State and Wabash. Improving remarkably as the weather conditions improved, Butler suffered defeats only at the hands of Earlham and Cincinnati. However, appearances in the State meet and the Mid-American conference sessions at the close of the season failed to produce any further victories.

During the year, the linksmen shattered almost every Butler golf record that has been posted prior to this season.

INTRAMURALS

Sigma Nu fraternity ended the four-year reign of Phi Delta Theta as the over-all champion of the Fairview Intramural league this year. Scoring three first places, four seconds and one third, the Sigma Nus compiled a total of 42 points to win the All-Intramural trophy.

The final standings were Sigma Nu 42, Phi Delta Theta 36, Crew 26, Sigma Chi 24, Lambda Chi Alpha 19, Butler Independent Association 6, Religion 5½, Scrubs 5½, Hallville Hustlers 5, Hornets 3, Y.M.C.A. 1, Yanks 1, American Legion 1, Wizbangers 1.

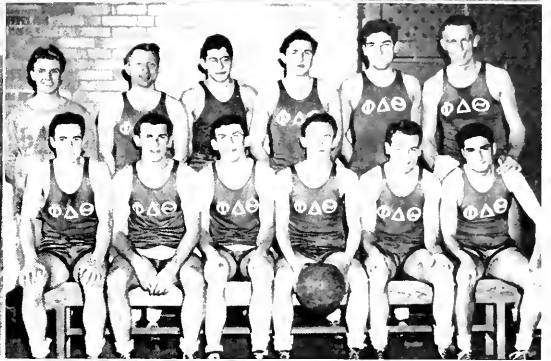

With competition increased by the independent teams, the winners took first place in the fall tennis tourney, scored first honors in the ping pong tourney, and captured their final blue ribbon in tennis, the closing event on the program.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the football championship and Crew captured honors in the basketball competition. Phi Delta Theta took the playoff hardwood tourney for its first top position of the year.

Swimming honors went to Sigma Chi, and the Lambda Chis took honors in the volleyball tourney. The Hallville Hustlers, one of the independent squads which cropped up during the year, took first honors in the golf match at Coffin. The Phi Delt retained their track championship by leaving the field far behind in that annual highlight. Crew won its second first by coming out ahead in the softball league.

IN MEMORIAM

On June 2, 1947, the campus was shocked to learn of the death of Mr. John W. Atherton, Secretary-Treasurer of the University, and one of our most distinguished graduates. Mr. Atherton had been prominently associated with the progress of Butler for many years, as well as with activities in the city and state. His death was a distinct loss not only to the University but to the city of Indianapolis which he had served as a member of the City Planning Commission and Board of Zoning Appeals for twenty-three years, and also to the State of Indiana which he had served in the Indiana General Assembly as State Senator.

Mr. Atherton became associated with the University in an official capacity in 1920 when he became financial secretary of the University. Shortly thereafter he was named to the Board of Directors. At this time Butler was a small college located in Irvington. Because of his vision and practical planning the present campus was acquired, and the tremendous amount of work was begun in order to effect the removal of Butler University in Irvington to the new campus in Fairview. Mr. Atherton, with loyalty and devotion to his Alma Mater, gave generously of his time and energy to bring this about, and in 1928 the Fairview campus was occupied.

During the years that Mr. Atherton was associated with Butler, the material assets of the school have been increased greatly. He accomplished this feat through his unusual ability to interest people of means in giving generously to Butler so that there might be continual growth.

Butler University has made possible a college education for hundreds of young people in this city and in this state. This opportunity would not have been possible if Mr. Atherton, with his foresight, had not envisioned the larger Butler. In spite of his busy days he was always a friend of Butler students. Hundreds of students who are now alumni recall him with affection and with high regard because of his genuine interest in them and their welfare, and for the many kindly and considerate things he enjoyed so much in doing.

The present Butler stands as a monument to the life of John W. Atherton. The greater Butler that is to be will result from his wise accomplishment and his far-sighted planning.

ORGANIZATIONS

VITAL to the life of the college community are the Greek letter organizations and other groups which promote good scholarship and university ideals, maintain high social standards and foster school spirit. College life is enriched by a fraternity affiliation which is both satisfying to the individual and valuable to the organization. The Greeks have a word for it . . . . they call it friendship.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Alpha Chi Omega was founded at DePauw University on October 15, 1885. Sixty-nine chapters have been established in the United States and Canada since its founding, and the total membership is more than 23,000. Alpha Chi chapter was installed on the Butler campus in 1925.

The social season opened with a tea dance held after the Butler-Indiana State football game. After the Homecoming game Alpha Chis entertained alums at an open house. The pledges were introduced to the campus at an all school open house November 3. A Halloween dance was held the beginning of November and the traditional formal Christmas dance was the last big event before the holidays. In the spring the pledges entertained the active chapter with a spring formal.

Alpha Chi captured the trophy for Homecoming decorations this year. Members were outstanding in class and departmental honoraries on campus. Spurs claimed Norajean Stone, Martha Lee Lancet, Joanne Fritz, Janice Kiser, and Suzanne Pearson. Chimes members were Mildred Marshall, secretary, and Carmel Cecile. Evelyn Goepper, Evelyn Aufderheide and June Goodrich were chosen as members of Scarlet Quill. Marjorie Phillips was elected president of Theta Sigma Phi and Marjorie Yelvington was vice-president. Marianne Buschmann was secretary of A. W. S. and the presidencies of Spanish Club and Kappa Beta were filled by Virginia Dubois. Rosemary Jones was treasurer of Philokurian and Jackie Lawson was a majorette. Other Alpha Chis participated actively in the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, MSS, Collegian, Loyalty Legion, Choir, W. A. A. and other campus organizations.

This year Alpha Chi was guided by Evelyn Goepper, president; Ulah Davis, vice-president; Marianne Buschmann, secretary; Virginia Dubois, treasurer; and Muriel Holland, rush chairman.

During fall rush, Delta Delta Delta pledged 31 girls who were later honored along with the other sororities' pledges at the Panhellenic Dinner. The Tri Delt social calendar included Open House, Founders' Day and State Day celebrations, the Dublin Fair held to raise money for a scholarship fund, the Sno-Ball, pledge dance and the annual June dance.

At the Freshman Mixer, pledge Helen Stone was chosen Typical Freshman Girl. Tri Delt also placed first in the Homecoming contest for the best float.

Tri Delt's were active in school affairs this year, holding offices in many campus organizations. Barbara Patterson was elected secretary of the senior class. Barbara Myers was chosen as one of the five Drift Beauty Queens. Betty Keough was president of both Chimes and W. A. A. Rose Marie Steinbach held the position of head drum majorette, and Mary Grace French was Y. W. C. A. president. Other officers for the year included Barbara Johnson, vice-president; Carol St. Clair, secretary; and Margaret Spink, treasurer.

Delta Gamma was well represented in the campus honorary societies. Spurs claimed Betty Miller, Patricia Wilkins and Marilyn Mitchell. Margaret Spink was president of Pi Epsilon Phi and Barbara Johnson was president of Delta Psi Kappa. Mary Williamson was a member of Mu Phi Epsilon and Frances Hooper was a member of Theta Sigma Phi. Elinor Allsworth was secretary of the junior class and Barbara Beck was selected as one of the five Drift Beauty Queens.

Delta Gamma enjoyed a very successful and eventful year highlighted by an open house, October 13, at which time 28 new pledges were introduced to the campus. The annual formal dinner dance was held at the Severin Hotel, December 22. Delta Gamma received the trophy for leading the sororities in the amount of contributions to the World Student Service Fund drive. Indiana Delta Gammas celebrated State Day on March 22 at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Throughout the year Delta Gamma anticipated the construction of the additions to the chapter house which they hope will be begun when school is dismissed for the summer.

In November Marcia Ann Tudor was elected by the student body to reign as queen over the Homecoming festivities. Alums were welcomed back at an open house following the game. The December calendar included the annual Dad's Day Dinner, a chapter Christmas party, carolling, senior spread, and a formal dance held in the chapter house.

Theta had a successful year in campus activities. Nancy Dreesen, Carol Bryant, and Mary Lou Jacobs were initiated into Spurs, of which Janie Klepher was president. Nancy Rodecker and Barbara Fark were among ten seniors elected to Phi Kappa Phi. Thetas chosen for Drift Beauty Queens were Mary Lou Jacobs and Dotty Gard.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Mu chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was established on the old Butler campus in Irvington in 1878, after the founding of the national organization at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, on October 13, 1870.

Twenty-four girls were pledged with Kappa's blue and blue at the beginning of the fall semester; they were honored at the first Panhellenic Pledge Dinner in Butler's history, given at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Social events in the fall included the traditional "coffee" after the football game on Homecoming Day; the revival of the Dad's Day Banquet following the football game with St. Joseph's on November 9; the annual chapter Christmas party and carolling; and the formal Christmas-pledge dance on December 14.

In November, Kappa was awarded the Indianapolis Panhellenic scholarship trophy for the second consecutive year. State Day activities were held in March, and the year's social program closed with the annual June dance.

Kappas in campus organizations were numerous: Jean Pittenger and Carolyn Shaw were elected to Phi Kappa Phi; Scarlet Quill claimed Barbara Seeger, president; Mary Alice Kessler and Martha Bales. Rebecca Taggart, Jean Redwine, and Mary Fritsche were Chimes members; Jean Pittenger and Rebecca Taggart served on the Student Council. Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet were Rebecca Taggart, Barbara Wells, secretary; and Mary Alice Kessler, music chairman. A. W. S. president was Martha Bales; Juliana Hamp was vice-president of the sophomore class. Many other Kappas held offices in departmental clubs and honoraries. Recent honors which came to Kappa included the selection of Carolyn Garthwait Smaltz as a 1947 Drift Beauty.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, under the name of I. C. Sirois on April 28, 1867. Miss Emily Helming, a member of the Butler faculty, was one of the founders of the campus chapter established August 27, 1897. Since its birth, Pi Beta Phi has grown to more than 90 active chapters and 42,000 members.

Pi Beta Phi has been prominent in social and campus activities throughout the year. Twenty-four girls were introduced to the campus at an open house in October. Early in the fall the annual Barn Dance was held which was followed by the Christmas dance and party at the chapter house. Indiana Gamma played host for the annual State Day dance on April 19 at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Exchange dinners were held with the fraternities, the traditional pledge dance was held early in the spring, and the year's activities came to a close with the June dinner dance.

Pi Phis received many honors in 1946-47 and were active in campus organizations. Peggy Harrison was elected Freshman Rose Queen. This was the sixteenth Pi Phi "Rose" in 19 years. Phyllis Augustine was elected Sweetheart of Sigma Chi by the Butler chapter and reigned over their social functions throughout the year.

Barbara Parks was chosen as a Drift beauty finalist. Patricia Bond was elected secretary of the sophomore class and Charlene Schenk was vice-president of the junior class. Betty Lou Billiter was elected to the Student Council and Ann Gill was secretary of the Council and a member of Scarlet Quill. Spurs claimed Shirley Loucks, Joy Wischer and Betty Lou Bergeron.

Officers for the year included Ann Gill, president; Margaret Dinkelaker, vice-president; Gloria Virt, secretary; and Jean Travis, treasurer. Pi Beta Phi is indebted to Mrs. Ethel Wright for her gracious supervision as house mother.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded on October 15, 1898, at Virginia State Normal School, Farmville, Virginia. It was organized with a charter from the Virginia State Legislature and now has 81 chapters located throughout the United States and Canada. The Alpha Delta chapter was installed on the Irvington campus June 15, 1920. One of its charter members is Miss Esther Renfrew, a member of the Butler faculty and professor of Romance languages.

Girls pledged during fall rush were honored at formal open house in October. Initiation services were held for seven girls later in the fall.

Exchange dinners were held with fraternities on campus. In November the Indianapolis alumnae sponsored a party at the chapter house for Zeta pledges from Franklin College, Indiana and Butler Universities. The Lakeshore Country Club was the scene of the Christmas dance. During Homecoming a buffet supper was given in honor of the Indianapolis alumnae, and in December a bridge party was held for them at the chapter house.

Zetas were well represented on campus during the year. Rose Humke was elected vice-president of the senior class, Irma Piel was a Student Council representative and chaplain of Sigma Alpha Iota. Maxine Brock was chosen a member of Kappa Beta. Dorothy Young and Catherine Morris were members of Tau Beta Sigma, of which Catherine was secretary.

Chapter officers were Jean Wetherald, president; Hilda Humke, vice-president; Irma Piel, secretary; Helen Curtis, treasurer; and Henrietta Rohde, rush chairman. Alpha Delta is very proud of her newly-acquired housemother, Mrs. Fulton, who came to the chapter in September.

TRIANON

Founded on the Butler campus December 28, 1929, Trianon, national non-Greek sorority, has become an active participant in scholastic and social events on the Butler calendar. A sister chapter is found on the campus of Ohio State University.

Among the activities of the 1946-47 season were those annual events which have become Trianon traditions: open house in the sorority room in the basement of Jordan Hall, a progressive Christmas dinner and party and a mother-daughter dinner on Mother's Day. Other social highlights of the year included a chili supper, a Halloween party given by the Mothers' Club, the National Convention held at the Hotel Lincoln in Indianapolis and a pledge-active party marking the initiation of eight new members in January. Trianon placed fifth in the Collegian Cheer Fund drive.

School honoraries and organizations claimed a large number from the Trianon roll call. Those in Spurs included Marge Sellmeyer Coleman, Thora Feltis and Elsie Popplewell, the latter two serving as social chairman and corresponding secretary. Dorothy Reinacker was claimed by Chimes. Jeanne Malott, who was one of the recipients of the A. W. S. Scholarship Cup, also served as freshman editor of Manuscripts. Miss Swann was a member of the Butler Student Council. "T" girls were also active in many other campus organizations.

Ruth Bowers was president; Miss Reinacker, vice-president and pledge captain; Miss Malott, recording secretary; Joan Durbin, corresponding secretary; and Miss Swann, treasurer. Mrs. Karl Means was adviser for the sorority and Miss Elna Hilliard served as faculty sponsor.

BUTLER INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION

The Butler Independent Association, local chapter of the National Independent Student Association, was organized in September of 1932 to foster and perpetuate a unified spirit among Butler students not affiliated with Greek letter societies.

For one year during the war period, the organization was divided into two groups, the men's division and the women's division. In September a decision to unite into one organization resulted in a revision of the constitution and election of new officers for one year. The following were elected: Lewis Miller, president; Carol Jarrett, vice-president; Edyth Williams, secretary; and Ed O'Nan, treasurer. Dr. and Mrs. Means remained sponsors of the group, later joined by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henzie who are now acting as co-sponsors. Martha Smith was appointed social chairman. Kenneth Ordell and Elsie McCormick were pledge co-chairmen.

The Butler Independent Association participated in social and political activities on the campus including intramural sports, Drift beauty contest, cheer drive and others.

Highlights of social activities were active-pledge mixes, a Mothers' banquet, the traditional Christmas party, initiation banquet, annual spring outings and many informal gatherings.

Weekly meetings were held in the social room, which is located off the north side of the cafeteria in the basement of Jordan Hall.

Under the motto, "Strength and Unity," B. I. A. members have endeavored to fulfill the association's purpose of perpetuating fellowship and promoting social, political and cultural interests. The B. I. A. pin is a blue shield with gold letters on it.

Several members have been elected to class honoraries and activity societies. The Butler Independent Association welcomed former members who had returned from the service.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta was founded at Bethany College, Virginia, in 1859. The Rainbow, or W. W. W. Society, founded at the University of Mississippi in 1848, amalgamated with Delta Tau Delta in 1886. Beta Zeta chapter was chartered the following year, and the Deltas acquired the first fraternity house on the Butler campus.

Beta Zeta continued to play a leading role on the campus during the 1946-47 school year and captured the trophy in the 1946 Homecoming house decorations competition.

Leading the Deltas in campus activities was Bill Ransdell, who was elected president of the senior class and also of the Loyalty Legion. Bill is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, and he, Bill Wildman, Bob Wildman, and Les Dold are members of Blue Key. Deltas wearing the Sphinx Club key are Winstan Sellick, Jim Cline, Jim Franklin, Harold Burr, Bill and Bob Wildman, Ransdell, and Dold. Walter Scott Christie, who won the election for treasurer of the sophomore class, is a Student Council representative, as is Bill Wildman.

Highlighting the year's social events was the annual Delt house party, back on the agenda for the first time since 1942. Thirty couples made the trip to Spring Mill State Park Thanksgiving weekend for the affair. A fine pledge dance at the Columbia Club, November 2, along with the exchange dinners and pin serenades helped make the year a success socially.

Officers were Bill Ransdell, president; Bill Wildman, vice-president; Jim Franklin, treasurer; Bob Myers, secretary; and Art Graham, corresponding secretary. Les Dold was elected vice-president for the remainder of the school year when Wildman vacated that position and became inactive in September.

Mrs. Snowdell Irelan succeeded Mrs. Jessie Boyers as Beta Zeta house mother.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The Alpha Alpha chapter or Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity was installed on the Butler campus December 17, 1915. The chapter began its thirty-second year with the largest pledge class in its history. With such a large class the fraternity has been a garden of personalities in which characters were moulded and tolerance and understanding grew.

The social season began with the Pigskin Pantomime dance and was followed by a Monte Carlo dance, Pledge dance, Valentine's dance, White Rose dance, State dance and ended with the annual Spring formal. At Christmas a party was given for 20 underprivileged children.

On the football team the fraternity boasted Captain Wally Potter, Perrone, LaVine, and Murphy. The chapter carried away the intramural football trophy and finished in the upper division in other intramural sports.

Lambda Chi men held prominent positions in extracurricular activities. Some of the positions were presidencies of Blue Key, Y. M. C. A., Sigma Delta Chi and managing editor of the Collegian held by Brother Iula. Brother Matthews was president of the junior class and Brother O'Brien represented the fraternity on the Student Council.

Officers serving during the year were Brothers Iula and Matthews, presidents; Brothers LaVine and Disselberg, vice-presidents; Brothers Mathews and Doig, secretaries; and Brothers Smith and French, treasurers.

The chapter wishes to express its sincere thanks to the housemother, Mrs. Mary Butler, for her help throughout the year.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta was founded December 26, 1848, in a modest dormitory room at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio. Its aim was to bind more strongly the deep friendships and mutual interests that exist among men. Today the fraternity has 106 chapters and 165 alumni clubs.

Phi Delta Theta became Butler's first fraternity in 1859. Through the years its guidance toward cultivation of friendship, acquirement of a high degree of mental culture and attainment of a high standard of morality have left treasures of memories in the hearts of those brothers who helped sail the good ship Phi.

Brothers Elmer Hopkins, and Walter Manifold led the "jolly crew" successfully over the sea of 1946. Both men took the presidency during the reconversion period when the chapter moved back to its Stone Castle. Housemother "Mom" Shaffer's smiling, understanding and appreciative personality always lingers with the members.

Phi Delta Theta won the all-intramural trophy last year, and contributed many men to Butler's varsity teams. Brother Herod "Hero" Toon received the university's highest athletic honor, the Andy Williams award. He also captained the 1946-47 basketball team.

The chapter wishes to express its appreciation and thanks to the older brothers—Hilton U. Brown, Glenn F. Findley, Larry Stewart, Robert Dietz, and George Schumacher—who have helped guide the chapter through the year.

SIGMA CHI

With the victory won and peace again restored to the world, Rho chapter of Sigma Chi launched into its program of reconversion. The result of summer months of hard labor terminated in the house being painted, cleaned and re-conditioned.

Rho chapter was faced this year with the return of many men who had attended Butler before the war, plus a large number of new pledges, so a chapter of one hundred men started the 1946 college year. One thing the "Sigs" are glad didn't change is that "Mom Whit" remained as housemother. Mrs. Hazel Whittenberger completed one year with Rho chapter last September.

The "Sigs" started the new year on campus off with a bang with the election of Paul Robey to the position of president of the Interfraternity Council. Don Baker won the coveted position of treasurer of Blue Key and Marion Thompson headed the Sphinx organization. The junior class elected Brother Dean Wildman as prom chairman and Don Payne was business manager for the 1947 Drift. Utes was guided this year by Tom Bemis, and Jack Boston was publicity director. Freshman John Chestnut led the class of 1950.

Another boost to the fame of Sigma Chi was the winning of the Collegian's Cheer Drive.

Founded on the 28th of June, 1855, at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, the Sigma Chi Fraternity installed the Butler chapter on April 10, 1865. In this its eighty-second year, Rho chapter was led by Paul Robey, president; Donald Baker, vice-president; Kenneth L. Newman, secretary; Donald Harkness, treasurer; Joseph Higgs, magister; and Donald Payne, steward.

SIGMA NU

With the great influx of men into Butler, Epsilon Mu chapter of Sigma Nu has increased in numbers almost to the bursting point. The chapter now carries on the rolls approximately 115 men. This great enrollment may precipitate the complete remodeling of the present house and the addition of a new wing.

The chapter this year continued the practice of entertaining several under-privileged children at a Christmas party. Bob Hamilton assumed his prewar role of Santa Claus.

A very successful pledge dance was given at Hillcrest Country Club, followed by an informal dance early in the spring and the formal June dance.

Nick S. Smyrnis, editor-in-chief of the Collegian during the first semester, was elected as chapter commander upon the graduation of Alan Chab. Other officers for the year were Joe Galvin, lieutenant-commander; William Osborn, recorder; Leo Marshall, marshal; Kenneth Runyon, sentinel, and Richard Mehne, chaplain.

The chapter was very much grieved over the death of their housemother, Mrs. Ora Wingfield, who had been with the chapter for approximately 13 years, but it is happy to welcome Mrs. Elsie Kierst to Butler.

Sigma Nu brought home the bacon in the form of trophies for winning the bonfire competition and float decorations for the annual Homecoming celebration.

Senior treasurer this year went to Jack Patterson, and Walter Dodd was president of the sophomore class. The chairmanship of the Freshman Rose dance was held by John Dove.

Epsilon Mu chapter of Sigma Nu received its charter May 7, 1926, and is the youngest fraternity on the campus.

Keys to Achievement

Keys not carried in the pocket or the purse. But in the mind. Keys that open not just ordinary doors . . . but vast areas of achievement in the sciences, the arts, the humanities. It is one of the purposes of education not only to fit the student with a basic ring of keys to knowledge . . . but also to teach him how to make his own keys for all the doors to achievement he will want to open throughout his life. How many keys to achievement are needed? Enough to keep one busy for a lifetime, fashioning them out of knowledge, reason and experience. For no matter how many doors you unlock, there is always another door to even greater achievement still to be opened.
